DEFENSE FUNDS ARE GIVEN OK BY COMMITTEE

President's Recommendations Get General Approval of House Group.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10—The house appropriations committee approved, in general, today President Roosevelt's recommendations for immediate emergency defense and neutrality outlays and proposed that congress provide $267,197,908 for the army, navy, coast guard and federal bureau of investigation.

The money would go for work already started or expected to be undertaken during the remainder of the fiscal year ending June 30, in connection with neutrality patrols, increases in and training of military personnel, and counter-espionage.

The whole outlay was proposed under the President's proclamation of a state of limited national emergency at the start of European war last September.

Some Cuts Made

Reporting an emergency appropriation bill to the house, the committee cut $4,801,615 from $271,-995,523 recommended by the executive branch. The largest reduction was $2,024,572 in the item of food for the army. The committee said there had been an excess appropriated for this purpose in earlier appropriation bills for this fiscal year, making the cut more or less a bookkeeping transaction.

The committee's approval of the administration's recommendations almost without change was characterized by some legislators as not giving an accurate indication of the group's economy-mindedness in this election year. The committee whacked away at a number of money measures last session, and subsequent bills later this term are expected to be a better test of committee sentiment.

The White House recommendations for the present emergency bill—which the house will consider tomorrow — were backed with the argument that world conditions made them necessary. The appropriations recommended by the committee for the four branches were: army $116,218,345, navy $145,082,238, coast guard $4,422,325, federal bureau of investigation $ 1,475,000.

To Purchase Supplies

In addition to these appropriations the committee also approved an authorization for the navy to proceed with purchases of $2,430,000 worth of ordnance supplies—such as torpedoes, guns, ammunition and powder.

The proposed funds would provide 16,969 more enlisted men for the regular army, bringing its strength to 227,000; 41,000 officers and men for the national guard, bringing its strength to 251,000; 38,900 men for the regular navy, bringing its total to 145,000; 6,000 men for the marine corps, raising it to 25,000; and 2,000 for the coast guard raising it to 10,866.

The navy would get $28,596,000 to buy 518 aircraft for use on neutrality patrol and $17,882,852 for operation of patrol craft, both sea and air.

One of the heftiest of the army appropriations was $28,200,000 for training, chiefly for the concentration of five regular army streamlined divisions in the south and their training, first separately as divisions and then together as two army corps.

SHOWDOWN DUE ON OHIO BUC

McNutt Orders Investigation at Request of State C. I. O. Leader

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10—An extended dispute between employers and unions over the figuring of unemployment compensation payments headed for a showdown today with administrator Paul McNutt's order for an investigation of the Ohio setup.

The C.I.O. prompted the inquiry with charges that maladministration last year by Director H. C. Atkinson of the Ohio bureau deprived jobless of $14,250,000 to which they were entitled.

Officials of the social security board said they would conclude as quickly as possible an investigation of the Ohio bureau.

Officials said the board would study the charges upon their receipt from McNutt and then refer them for preliminary inquiry to R. L. Goodwin, regional director for Michigan, Ohio and Kentucky with headquarters at Cleveland.

The charges—termed "deliberately false" and "grotesque" by Atkinson—were presented by John Owens, president of the C.I.O. in Ohio.

Focal point of the probe is a disputed method of determining benefits fixed by law at half recipients' "average wages." Persons who become unemployed are eligible for these insurance benefits for 16 weeks. Funds for payment come to the state from employers but the federal government puts up funds to administer the bureau itself.

Differ on Methods

Employers have contended the basis for benefits should be actual wages received during employment, including part-time weeks. Unions argued only full-time wages should be considered.

Ten days ago Atkinson proposed benefits be reckoned on the highest earnings of any quarter of the preceding year. Later he described this as "middle course" which would increase benefits 10 per cent.

Half an hour before McNutt's probe ordered yesterday, Atkinson said at Akron, O., that the security administrator "is too smart a politician to get sucked in as a stooge and sucker by a few C.I.O. leaders."

Owens said jobless would have received 14 millions more if Atkinson "had followed the Ohio law and the operating rule."

"Benefits paid in 1939 to unemployed workers totaled only $23,-750,000," the C.I.O. leader said. "If benefits had been paid on the full time week as they should have been, the unemployed workers would have received $38,000,-000. There had been ample money available, as income of the Ohio fund this past year has totaled $58,000,000."

Owens also charged Atkinson precluded jobless from having a fair hearing, "unnecessarily increased administrative expense," "attempted to administer the law to meet his own personal opinions," and "consistently pursued a policy that accrues advantages to employers at the expense of benefits to unemployed workers."

Atkinson said Owens' statement "is a typical C.I.O. representation and distortion; it is deliberately false and none of the charges will stand impartial scrutiny."

Regarding his "compromise" plan, the Ohio administrator said: "The extreme average theory would cost Ohio $22,000,000 annually, on the basis of 1939 benefit payments. The extreme full-time theory would cost $38,000,000. The middle course which I advocate would cost $30,000,000—exactly half-way between the two extremes.

"Since 38 states already use the high quarter principle, I am not in the slightest concerned over the C.I.O.'s grotesque and absurd charges. It is easy to hurl unfounded charges. It is difficult to fairly administer social security law, so that both employe and employer are treated fairly."

New Car Sales in 1939 Double Those of 1938

Ninety-eight new passenger automobiles were sold in Marion city and county during December, sending total sales for 1939 to more than double the mark for 1938, according to monthly and year-end statistics released today by the Retail Merchants bureau of 142½ East Center street.

Sales of new cars in 1939 totaled 1,008 as compared with 481 in 1938. Used car and new truck sales likewise exceeded marks of the preceding year. In 1939 there were 2,957 used cars sold, while in the preceding 12-month period 2,143 were sold. An even 100 new trucks were sold in the year just ended, compared with 64 sold in 1938.

Final Quarter Busy

Breaking down 1938 sales into periods of three months reveals that the final quarter exceeded others in the number of new cars sold. New cars sales in the fourth quarter totaled 303, in the third quarter numbered 297, in the second quarter totaled 272 and in the first three months, 226.

Although sales in all divisions were above the totals for 1938, they fell short of marks set in 1937. The 1,008 new cars sold last year is compared with 1,475 new vehicles sold in 1937, while 2,957 used automobiles disposed of last year is considerably under the 1937 record of 3,574 sales. New trucks sales totaling 100 last year is a score less than the 120 sold in 1937.

More Certificates Issued

Miss Alma Fetter, deputy clerk in the title division of Clerk of Courts Carl F. Haberman's office reported that 11,818 certificates of title were issued in 1939. That is 374 below the 12,192 issued in 1938. In December 826 were issued, two more than the preceding month.

Monthly sales figures on new cars for 1938 reveal that the advent of the later models during the fall months boosted October to the year's peak. In October 113 new cars were sold, the month of March with 101, May with 100 and December with 98, ranking in that order. September, just before the new models were displayed, was the slowest month.

HATCHERY BURNED NEAR CARDINGTON

$3,000 to $3,500 Loss Caused at Van Sickle Farm.

Special to The Star

CARDINGTON, O., Jan. 10—Fire of undetermined origin razed a large poultry house on the F. O. Van Sickle farm southwest of Cardington at 6 a. m. today, causing damage estimated between $3,000 and $3,500.

Besides the 110x26 foot frame building the loss included five sows, one with 13 pigs, 175 chickens, five tons of hay, several hundred bushels of soy beans, 20 bushels of clover seed, 50 bushels of oats, 200 bushels of wheat, a 1938 Hudson Terraplane car owned by Cloyce Ault who is employed at the farm, and a number of farm tools.

Mrs. Van Sickle said the family had no idea how the fire started, since there was no stove burning in the building. She said the loss was partially covered by insurance.

The Cardington fire department, called to the farm, concentrated its efforts on saving the home, located about 50 feet from the burning building and endangered by a wind carrying sparks.

The west end of the building caught fire first and 95 fattening hogs were saved and 85 fattening through the door at the other end.

Mr. Van Sickle was first secretary of the Marion Production Credit association with headquarters here in Marion, having held that position several years.

ACCIDENT VICTIM'S FUNERAL THURSDAY

Services at Richwood Set for Farmer of Near Meeker.

Special to The Star

RICHWOOD, Jan. 10—Funeral for Fred Elmer Mayer, 50, of two and one-half miles northwest of Meeker, who was fatally injured yesterday when struck by an automobile near Big Island, will be conducted Thursday at 2:30 p. m. in Central Methodist church in Richwood. Rev. John Forsythe of Raymond will be assisted by the pastor, Rev. Mowery. Burial will be made in Bethlehem cemetery near Richwood. Friends may call at the home until noon Thursday when the body will be moved to the church.

Mr. Mayer died in Marion City hospital at 1:25 p. m. yesterday of internal injuries and severe shock. He was struck by an automobile driven by John M. Steffanni of East Salem as he stood beside his car clearing the windshield, according to State Patrolman T. B. Morgan who investigated the accident.

Surviving Mr. Mayer are his sister, Mrs. Florence Mayer who lives at Lakeview, the widow, Mrs. Ethel Taylor Mayer, three children, Mrs. Elmer Berry and Miss Opal Mayer of Richwood and Delbert at home, and three sisters. Mr. Mayer was born at Lewisburg, O., on June 3, 1889, son of Mr. and Mrs. and Florence Thompson Mayer. His marriage to Miss Taylor took place on June 7, 1914 at Greenfield, O.

FINLAND WINS GREAT VICTORY

Defenders Surround Another Red Division After Smashing Two Units.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

HELSINKI, Jan. 10 — Two hundred Russian dead were left on a battlefield north of Lake Ladoga today when Finnish forces dispersed a Soviet battalion and took 40 prisoners, a Finnish communique announced.

By The Associated Press

WITH THE FINNISH ARMY AT THE RUSSIAN FRONTIER NEAR RAATE, CENTRAL FINLAND, Jan. 10—Victorious Finnish troops who have thrown shattered remnants of two Russian divisions back across their border were reported today to have surrounded a third enemy division at Kukkammo, south of the scenes of recent triumphs.

For the first time since the Red army invasion began the Finns have cleared the area between Lake Klanta, Suomussalmi and the frontier, of Russian units and today they established border posts along a 30-mile stretch.

Details of the Kukkammo action were lacking, but ski troops finished mopping up remnants of the Russian 44th and 163rd divisions, routed in 14 days of bitter fighting.

Defeat of the 44th along a four and one half mile stretch of twisting highway was the biggest Finnish victory of the war.

Evidence of the fierce three-day battle which began Jan. 5 could still be seen in scores of trucks scattered along the highway and cannon with piles of hundreds of shells and shellcaps still beside them.

A Finnish general revealed that victory might have belonged to the Red army if it had counter-attacked strongly. He expressed belief that the counter-attack was not made, because of lack of reenforcements and disorganization.

Finnish losses were small in the three days of fighting, a Finnish colonel in the Raate sector said, compared with the thousands of Russians killed and more than 1,000 taken prisoner.

Victory came, they declared, through superior strategy with a measure of luck.

The turning point in the bitter battle was at the frontier when Finnish ski patrols succeeded in destroying a highway bridge which kept the Russians from bringing up reenforcements.

Finland Wins Resting Spell

By The Associated Press

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 10 — Six weeks of fierce defense and slashing counter attacks against the Soviet Russian invasion appear to have won a breathing spell for Finland.

Finns suggest their foe is temporarily exhausted. An official Russian acknowledgment of a withdrawal on the central eastern front tends to bear this out.

How long the lull will last Finnish military quarters can not say, but they presume it is merely the quiet before the storm of a great Red offensive most likely to break on the Karelian isthmus.

Red forces have been concentrating fresh manpower on the isthmus front the past two weeks.

Some reports reaching Copenhagen said the Russians have about 200,000 soldiers in Karelia.

Farmers Find Prices Up 17 Per Cent Over Year Ago As New Season Nears

Of Ten Major Agricultural Products Only Livestock and Eggs Fail To Show Advance.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Jan. 10—Farmers studying market conditions in preparation for this year's planting found prices of their major commodities today averaging about 17 per cent higher than a year ago.

Of 10 important items farmers have to sell, only livestock and eggs brought less returns than at the start of 1939. Most products were priced under January, 1937, quotations and a few were lower than two years ago, but with these exceptions the general level of market prices was about the best of the past decade.

Whether these higher prices foretell increased agricultural income, however, will depend on the amount of commodities farmers have to sell, market analysts said. In general, recent price advances have been based on prospects of decreased production in 1940, as in the case of wheat. Price losses reflected larger market supplies, as in the case of hogs. Farm income in 1939, including government payments, was the best since 1930, except for 1937.

Short Crop Seen

The 1940 wheat crop, because of severe fall and winter drouth, may fall about 150,000,000 bushels short of the 1939 harvest and the government already has taken steps to reduce corn acreage.

However, producers have retained title to much more unmarketed wheat and corn produced in 1939 than usually is the case. They have obtained loans on more than 150,000,000 bushels of wheat and more than 300,000,000 bushels of 1938 and 1939 corn may be sealed. This grain probably would be sold on the market in 1940 if prices were satisfactory.

Crops which now command best prices at market, such as wheat, oats, rye and soy beans, may be given most consideration in farmers' planting intentions insofar as producers who cooperate with the government program find federal control plans do not interfere, market men said.

May Increase Planting

The government has indicated spring wheat plantings may be increased 10 per cent because of the prospective small winter wheat crop. Acreage allotments are larger than last year. Reduced oats and rye crops in 1939 contributed to the price level of these commodities. The biggest soy bean crop on record met with increased commercial demand and, with corn planting expected to be smaller, many farmers may put more acreage into beans.

Market experts believe lower hog prices and the unfavorable feeding ratio between corn and hog values may result in a slightly smaller 1940 pig crop, compared with the huge production last year.

Egg production last year approached the all-time record established in 1930 and a continued heavy output is expected at least for part of 1940. Butter production was slightly less than the 1938 record but improved prices are expected to stimulate manufacture, which has slumped in recent months.

KENTON WOMAN ENDS LIFE HERE

Had Disappeared from Home Monday, Brooding Over Suicide of Son.

A Kenton woman who relatives said had been brooding over the suicide of a son 14 months ago was found this morning shot to death in a room at the Pilgrim Inn on North Main street. Officials said that from all indications the shot was self-inflicted.

The victim is Mrs. L. C. Shrider, 46, who disappeared from her home in Kenton Monday, a short time before she registered at the hotel here under another name. The body was identified this afternoon by relatives.

While a verdict had not been returned this afternoon by Coroner M. F. Axthelm, officials investigating the death said that Mrs. Shrider apparently shot herself with a .22 caliber target pistol.

Gave Springfield Address

Mrs. Shrider, who registered at the hotel Monday afternoon as Mrs. Ellen Mackey of Springfield, was found dead about 9:30 a. m. by hotel employes who forced their way into the room when she failed to answer their calls.

The body, fully clothed, was on the bed. The gun was in the victim's right hand and on the bed were two cooking pans, a sponge and a quantity of cotton, arranged in a manner that led officials to believe she had inhaled chloroform before shooting herself. Five empty chloroform bottles, bearing labels of three Marion drug stores, were found in the room.

In a zipper overnight bag were found a quantity of sleeping tablets.

The wound was near the right temple and caused almost instant death, according to Dr. M. M. Weinbaum, who was called in the absence of Coroner Axthelm.

Dr. Weinbaum expressed the opinion Mrs. Shrider had been dead since between 7 and 9 o'clock last night.

Answered Inquiry Yesterday

Hotel employes said the woman did not appear nervous or excited when she registered Monday afternoon and that they had not seen her since that time. Yesterday afternoon, a maid found the door to the room bolted when she went to clean the room. The maid said that when she called to the woman, Mrs. Shrider told her she was resting and did not want to be disturbed.

The death was investigated by Police Chief Marks, Police Capt. E. C. Mackan, Sheriff Fred M. Miller and Prosecuting Attorney Paul D. Michel. The body was re-

Former Sheriff Ullom Dies

Stricken While Visiting at Home of Daughter in Cleveland.

James Franklin Ullom, 80, of 127 Dix avenue, former Marion county sheriff and the county's humane officer for 17 years, died last night at 10:10 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. E. Moodie of Cleveland.

Six weeks ago Mr. Ullom went to Cleveland for a visit with his daughter. He appeared to be in the best of health over the holidays and until a week ago when he suffered a stroke. Yesterday his condition took a turn for the worse and his son, Clyde Ullom of Marion, was called to Cleveland.

Mr. Ullom, a Democrat, was Marion's "war time" sheriff, serving two consecutive terms, starting in January of 1917.

In 1921 he became the county's humane officer and continued to serve in that capacity until he retired at the close of 1938.

KENTON MAN NAMED PRESBYTERY HEAD

Galion Man Clerk; New Upper Sandusky Pastor Received.

Dr. Homer George McMillan of Kenton was elected moderator of Marion presbytery at the mid-winter meeting yesterday at Forest Lawn Presbyterian church.

The new moderator, who took over his duties at the close of the meeting, succeeds Rev. John H. Bergen of Delaware.

Rev. William A. Martin of Galion was elected temporary clerk. It was decided to hold the spring meeting in April at Urbana.

Announcement was made of a meeting of the presbytery Laymen's association on Jan. 22 at Forest Lawn church. Dr. Harry L. Bell of Central Christian church will be the speaker.

Rev. Robert C. Bowman of the Linn presbytery, who will be installed as pastor of the Upper Sandusky Presbyterian church on Wednesday night, Jan. 24 was received into the presbytery.

At the installation service Dr. Bell will preside and Rev. R. Frank Mitchell of Bucyrus will deliver the sermon. Rev. John A. Bruce of Marysville will give the charge to the congregation and Rev. T. M. Patterson of Crestline will give the charge to the pastor.

Dr. James F. Riggs of New York City, representing the general council of the church, spoke in the morning on "One Year of Opportunity." The report of Dr. C. E. Coe of Columbus, general presbyter, was made in the afternoon.

Women of Forest Lawn church served dinner at noon.

Davids St. Lot To Be Flooded for Ice Skating

Announcement that arrangements have been completed for flooding of the tennis court of the Salvation Army at the Davids Street school grounds for ice skating was made today by officials of the Junior Chamber of Commerce following a meeting of the board of directors last night at the home of T. E. Brownlee on Darfee drive.

The skating program will be under the supervision of the Salvation Army and there probably will be instruction available.

Water for flooding the court, which measures 25 by 40 yards, is being furnished by the Marion Water Co., Junior Chamber officials said. The court has been well banked with snow, with several residents of near the school assisting in the work. The Junior Chamber committee working on the skating program is headed by Charles Caprino and includes Walter Maxwell, Ellis Wilson and James Barker.

The Davids street project is experimental and if it proves successful other suitable areas in the city may also be flooded for skating, officials said.

William Bradley, president of the Junior Chamber, announced the committee for selecting the recipient of the annual distinguished service award, presented by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce through the local Chamber, is already at work and will announce its selection Jan. 22 when there will be a joint meeting of the Junior and Senior Chambers.

Plans for the annual Golden Gloves boxing tournament were discussed, but are not ready for announcement.

The board approved the membership application of Walter Haldeman, teller at the National City Bank & Trust Co.

PRESIDENT AND TAFT CONTINUE ARGUMENT

Budget Director Cites Figures To Aid Roosevelt.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10—While President Roosevelt and Senator Taft, Republican of Ohio, continued their argument over government economy, Budget Director Harold D. Smith said today that the federal agencies reorganized by the Chief Executive last summer cut 5,000 employes off the payroll in three months.

Smith said, however, that the total civilian personnel of the government increased 9,470 to 987,257 from July 31 to Nov. 1 because of additions in agencies connected with national defense and neutrality.

Mr. Roosevelt cited figures yesterday to show that a program outlined by Senator Taft, Republican of Ohio, for balancing the multi-billion dollar budget would save only $6,000,000 yearly.

That would include, he said, the elimination of the national planning board, which he contended would save the government a lot of money in the long run, and the Disaster Loan Corp., which he pointed out spent most

GERMAN BASES UNDER ATTACK

London Reports Enemy Bombing of 12 Ships, Admits Two Are Sunk.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, Jan. 10—Three British Blenheim planes out of nine attackers were shot down today over Helgoland bight, German officials announced.

The announcement said four German pursuit planes had driven off the invaders and inflicted casualties on the British aircraft in an engagement at 1 p. m. (7 a. m., Marion time).

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Jan. 10—The British air force carried the war to Germany's shores today in an outburst of renewed air and sea warfare coming only one day after Prime Minister Chamberlain's warning that grim days are ahead.

The British sent warplanes over Germany's northwest coast in what they called reconnaissance flights and "security patrols" over German mine-laying bases in the Frisian islands.

Dispatches from Copenhagen indicated that the Britons ran into battle. Vivid flashes through the early dawn and the rumble of cannonading along with the sighting of numerous aircraft indicated an air battle over the island of Sylt, German air base.

This followed a sudden bomb and machine-gun attack by German warplanes upon 12 ships in British coastal waters yesterday. The German communique asserted that eight vessel were sunk, the British acknowledged the sinking of only two.

Air Attack Sinks Oakgrove

The admiralty announced today that the 1,985-ton British vessel Oakgrove was sunk with an undetermined number of casualties after an attack from the air, and that the 669-ton British steamer Gowrie also went down.

The admiralty said today that two Danish ships, the 3,389-ton Ivan Kondrup and the 965-ton Feddy, attacked yesterday and previously reported sunk, had been found afloat and probably would be brought into port.

The 10,002-ton Dunbar Castle was broken in half by a mine off the English east coast, and British warships were reported hunting a German submarine base in the Canary Islands. It was understood the Dunbar Castle was in an outward bound convoy.

Capt. H. A. Causton and two of the Dunbar Castle's crew were killed; two others were reported missing. Huddled in blankets, the 48 passengers and remainder of the crew of 150 were brought to London early today by rescuers. Nine children and several women were among them.

The Dunbar Castle, which just had begun a voyage for South Africa, was the largest liner mined in coastal waters since the 11,070-ton Japanese ship Tarukuni Maru was sunk Nov. 21.

Many Are Injured

Many of the survivors were injured, but the total was not ascertained. The rush of water into the hole in the side made launching of boats difficult, and the ship broke in half within 20 minutes, just as the last boat got away.

A lightship tender, five fishing vessels and two unidentified craft also were attacked by planes. The admiralty charged the raids were aimed at unescorted ships. Officials of the naval and aerial services were reported attaching unusual importance to this new offensive.

From Rio De Janeiro came a report three submarines attacked the British steamer Avila Star.

Baptist and Epworth Cagers Keep Records Clean in Church Loop Play

Trinity Baptist and Epworth kept their records unblemished by annexing fourth consecutive victories in Tuesday night's Sunday school basketball league games at the Y. M. C. A.

The Baptists smothered Forest Lawn, 31-13, turning the game into a rout after their foes managed to hold them to an 8-8 deadlock in the first period. Rice garnered 12 points for the victors.

Epworth's classy floor work was the margin of difference in a 29-25 victory over Oakland, a win that kept the Methodists in the thick of the title fight. Elsey, Renwick and Bender each collected nine tallies to pace Epworth.

United Brethren, defending titleholders relied on a final quarter splurge to spill Prospect Street Methodists, 25-20. The Brethren quintet tightened its grip on third place and sent the Methodists into a threeway tie for fifth.

Despite the individual scoring performance of Brickley, who piled up 18 tallies for Fite Memorial, his team bowed to Wesley, 41-34. The win left Wesley as sole claimant to fourth spot. Standings and summaries follow.

MARION ELKS VISIT ELYRIA

A group of members of Marion Lodge No. 32, B. P. O. Elks were guests at a 6 o'clock dinner and meeting of Elyria lodge last night in that city. The occasion was the annual lodge visitation conducted by the Ohio State Association of Elks. Guests included Jack Lais of Norwalk, president of the state association. In the Marion party were B. A. Pierre, exalted ruler, William B. Sherman esquire, T. A. O'Leary, secretary, W. F. Bull, tiler, H. R. Stauffer and J. T. Caulfield, trustees, M. D. Porter, Lawrence A. Clark, Harry G. Musser, George W. Neely, Charles P. Tate, C. D. Paurot, Walter McConnell, Dr. A. J. Wagner, A. F. Van Nostran, Floyd Pickering and Verlin P. Haines.

OFFICERS INSTALLED BY CENTRAL UNION

Committees for Year Named; Protest to Bureau Voted.

Installation of officers, seating of delegates and appointment of committees featured a meeting Tuesday night of Marion Central Labor Union. Twenty-four delegates from local A. F. of L. unions were seated for 1940 and all recently elected officers were installed.

Committees named for 1940 are, Organization—Glenn L. Switland, Cliff B. Welch, W. Miller, C. A. Bolin and Frank Stanley.

Legislative — Emerson Hurley, Merle Mason, A. D. Boyd, C. W. Davidson, Frank Robinson, T. F. Robins and Al Fulton.

Press—Fred P. Hans, Emerson Hurley, J. J. Zuck and Ray Beverly.

Label—William Armbruster, A. D. Boyd and James Sons.

Other committees will be named at the next meeting Jan. 23.

Protest Voted

Formal protest against alleged delay in handling claims and payments to unemployed workers through the bureau of unemployment compensation was voted.

The group reported that unemployed workmen in Marion have experienced difficulty in obtaining their checks from the state bureau and that considerable criticism was expressed by the delegates. They charged checks were delayed from four to six weeks. A report on the matter was made by the legislative committee.

Fred B. Scherff, manager of the Marion bureau of unemployment, said today that in his opinion there was no justification for the action locally, that there might be in some sections of the state but not in Marion.

He says the office does have a few protested claims, "due perhaps to employers' wage reports," but cited an instance in one of Marion's large industrial concerns as an example of the expedient handling of claims here. He said that 162 claims were filed by the company in a one-month period last fall and that in from 10 days to two weeks all claims had been determined, reports were back in the local office and checks were paid.

Display Planned

An invitation was received from the Marion Typographical Union to exhibit union-made products of Marion manufacturers at the annual Typographical conference at Athens, O., in April. A statewide exhibit of union-made products is planned.

The committee on celebration of the President's birthday on behalf of the fight against infantile paralysis reported all local unions are cooperating fully and that the 1940 "march of dimes" campaign promises to be the most successful in history. All local members were urged to mail their dime cards before Jan. 30, the President's birthday.

K. OF C. BOWLERS TO GO TO CLEVELAND

Plans to send at least four teams to the annual state Knights of Columbus bowling tournament at Cleveland were made last night when Marion council No. 671 met at the hall. The teams will compete Feb. 24. The men will compete in singles and doubles the next day. Plans were also made for a meeting Jan. 23 when U. S. navy pictures will be shown and refreshments served.

CIRCLES TO MEET

The women's circles of Trinity Baptist church will unite for a covered dish luncheon Thursday at 1 p. m. at the church. Circle No. 3 will be hostess, with Mrs. Mildred Duffey as chairman. Each circle will hold separate business sessions after the luncheon.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS NAME COMMITTEES

New Balkan Pact Must Be Worry To Nazi Fuehrer

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

There can be little balm for Herr Hitler in the latest Balkan developments of moment—the reported Italo-Hungarian defensive alliance, and the heavy trade-offensive by the Anglo-French allies to cut Germany off from the vast resources of the peninsula and thus complement the naval blockade.

These events presumably aren't related by design, but they both have the same tendency. That is to reduce Nazi, as well as Russian, influence in this Garden of Eden which figured so prominently in the fuehrer's dream of a "drang nach orten" (drive to the east) that was to make the fatherland self-sufficient and able to tell the rest of the world to go hang.

Duce Raises Barrier

Whatever way you look at it, the further intrusion of Mussolini in what his axis partner has been regarding as his private preserves, is an additional barrier against Russian or German expansion into the Balkans.

But the alliance may mean more than that—it may be one of the biggest guns of the war, if all reports prove to be true. It is said unofficially that the part is directed not only against any possible Russian invasion, but is calculated to compel Herr Hitler to choose between his new friendship with the Soviet and his affiliations with Italy and Hungary. In other words, the alliance might be turned against Germany in event of aggression.

While Hitler undoubtedly would be glad to see Russia blocked from Balkan adventures, it must irk him to find himself hampered by the same instrument which is directed against the Communists.

It would seem that Il Duce is leaving no stone unturned in his efforts to consolidate the Balkans into a peace bloc which will at the same time stand on its own feet to resist aggression. The Fascist press publishes reports that Italian Foreign Minister Count Ciano, Mussolini's son-in-law and political heir, may visit Budapest to help Hungary and Rumania settle their difference. It is also said that Rumanian Foreign Minister Gafencu may go to Rome on a similar mission.

EPWORTH SOCIETY AT EVANS HOME

Miss Jeannette Evans of East Center street was hostess for a meeting of Lambda Beta chapter of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of Epworth Methodist church Monday night. The following articles were presented: "Motion Pictures," Miss Mary Catherine Miley; "Ohio Fields," Mrs. Ralph Carhart, and "Radio," Mrs. Jack Danner. Mrs. Richard Denman reviewed the fourth chapter of the study book, "Homeland Harvest." Refreshments were served.

U. B. AID GROUP MEETS

Mrs. Ida Roberts conducted devotions and Mrs. Zora Scranton was in charge of a business session at a meeting of Circle No. 3 of the Ladies' Aid society of First United Brethren church Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. H. J. Osborn on Lake street. A program of music and readings was given. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Ethel Orahood. "Third Sisters" will be revealed at the February meeting.

TRAVEL TALK HEARD AT ROTARY MEETING

"Meet People," O. S. U. Geography Teacher Advises.

Illustrations of how to get the most out of travel were given members of the Marion Rotary club and guests yesterday by a man who has visited many foreign countries and studied the people and customs there.

The speaker was Prof. Roderick Peattie, geography instructor in the Ohio State University school of commerce. His talk was the main feature of the program which followed the weekly Rotary luncheon at Hotel Harding.

Prof. Roderick advised against mere superficial sight-seeing visits and said he had derived greatest enjoyment and benefit from mingling with the people of the various countries and joining in their work and pastimes.

He spoke especially of his stay in Andorra, a tiny country wedged between France and Spain and related his experiences working with the natives on their farms and in the lumber camps. He also took his listeners on visits to Albania and other localities.

Anecdotal accounts of his experiences and humorous observations contributed much to his interesting address.

The speaker was introduced by George Planck, Rotary club program chairman.

Visitors were Rotarian C. B. Ketchum of Columbus, J. Paul Jordan and Ray McCann of East Pittsburgh, and Edwin C. Dee of Marion.

PLAY DATE SET BY EDISON P.-T.A.

Plans for a play to be stage the night of Friday, Jan. 26, were made Tuesday night when the P.-T. A. of Thomas A. Edison school met. The play will be put on by the dramatic group of Salem Evangelical and Reformed church. The committee to arrange sale of tickets includes Hall Miller, Miss Isabelle Untapher and Paul Ebert.

The program last night included: Piano solo, Dolores Bain; songs by Hope and Faith Line, accompanied by Bob Bellinger on the piano; dances, Norma Jean Duckwall and Twila Hickok; piano solo, Janice Brabson.

Mrs. C. G. Musgrave, council representative, invited officers and members to attend a meeting of the city P.T. A. council at Central Christian church at 7:30 Thursday night. A nominating committee, including Mrs. E. W. Koepnen, Miss Elizabeth Martin and G. Kellogg, was named. The ways and means committee asked donations of foods for a chili supper to be given Jan. 18.

WESLEY CLASS MEETS

Erma Barnett and Ida Habluetzel were named leaders of an attendance and membership contest when the J. U. G. class of Wesley Methodist church met Monday night with Virginia Black of 497 Evans road. Dorothy Thomas was the assistant hostess. Blue and pink were chosen as the class colors. Contests were won by Mrs. D. N. Kelly, teacher, Ida Habluetzel and Zenabelle Moehn.

D. U. V. E. MEET DELAYED

Installation of officers of Harriet Beecher Stowe Tent No. 48, Daughters of Union Veterans, scheduled for last night, has been postponed until Jan. 23 because of illness of the installing officer, it was announced today. Next Monday a group of members will attend the installation of Richwood tent officers.

State Education Head Talks As Galion Dedicates School

Special to The Star

GALION, Jan. 10 — Dedicated last night to the boys and girls of Galion was Galion's newest and most modern school building, the new $110,000 East elementary school, construction of which was completed early in the fall.

E. N. Dietrich, state director of education, was the speaker.

He told his audience of the various needs in education, and expressed the need of a couple more years of school after the senior year in high school in order to take care of the three to four million idle young people in the nation, and to give them more definite skill to prepare them for their life work.

Another need is to teach more about government and what good government consists of, Dietrich continued. He said that a first line of defense for a democratic form of government is the education of boys and girls in good citizenship, and that he believes it is not too late to preserve the democratic form of government in the United States.

O. E. Hill, superintendent of the Galion schools, opened the program and acted as chairman during the ceremonies. The entire program was broadcast to every room in the building for the convenience of those unable to obtain seats in the auditorium which seats 400. This was filled to capacity, and the other rooms of the building were well filled.

The invocation was given by Rev. T. B. Orr, pastor of the Free Methodist church. Then Supt. Hill spoke briefly and introduced Mrs. William Diesem who had attended the old school many years ago and who had served several years as P.-T. A. president. Mrs. Diesem in turn introduced Mrs. C. E. Kreps, president of the P.-T. A. of the building, and Jean Leavenworth, the kindergarten teacher who is secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Presentation of the building to the board of education was made by the general contractor, L. M. Leonard of Columbus. In the absence of the board president, Dr. P. A. Murr, the vice president, Louise John was introduced. She presented Dr. C. Adams, board member who represents the East school. Acceptance of the keys to the school was made by the principal, C. M. Stover.

Recognition of the architects, William Unger of Bucyrus and Moore & Denman of Marion was also made during the program.

Flags were presented to the school from various patriotic organizations. Presentations were made by Mrs. William Carr, representing the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Carrie Franks of Bell of Liberty council, Daughters of America, Mrs. Charles Farnworth and members of the Germaine Nelling Junior club who represented the Woman's Relief Corps. Acceptance was made by Principal Stover.

EMMETT REILLEY HURT IN ACCIDENT

Former Marion Ball Player Seriously Hurt.

Emmett Reilley, 51, who played baseball on Marion's team in the old Ohio State league in 1910, suffered a triple leg fracture and back injuries in an automobile accident near Paducah, Ky., yesterday. The Associated Press reported.

Reilley, who lives in Columbus, has stopped in Marion frequently while on business trips. He is a sporting goods salesman.

After playing here, Reilley went to several other teams. He once played with Lima, caught for Louisville of the American Association and once managed the Zanesville Greys.

BAPTISTS HERE TO GO TO CONVENTION

Trinity, Emmanuel and Fite Memorial Baptist churches will be represented at the Baptist convocation Thursday at the First Baptist church on East Broad street in Columbus.

Among those planning to go are Rev. and Mrs. Lawrene A. Wood, Rev. Emerson Russell, Mrs. Mark H. Baker and Mrs. Frank Brabson of Trinity church, Rev. Marvin W. Crabtree and Don Orahood of Emmanuel church and Rev. W. K. Riggs of Fite Memorial church.

The convocation will be one of seven in Ohio and is a part of the Northern Baptist convention program.

EPWORTH SOCIETY MEETS

Mrs. Florence Acker of 198 Lake street entertained the Lucy Webb Hayes Missionary society of Epworth Methodist church Tuesday night. Mrs. Louise Fogle conducted devotions, and two chapters from the study book, "Homeland Harvest" were presented. Mrs. Acker reviewed "An Emerging Leadership," and Miss Audrey Bolander gave "Leavening the Mass." Miss Irene Curless gave several items from the missionary magazine, and Mrs. Rhea Gorslin was in charge of the mite box opening which amounted to approximately $25. Mrs. Acker was assisted by Miss Audrey Bolander and Miss Lela Brookshire in serving refreshments.

TO MEET FRIDAY

An address on "The Healing Power of Forgiveness" will be given by Mrs. Fannye Jordan, Treasurer of Columbus, leader, at the Marion Unity Center meeting Friday night at 7:30 at the public library. The "committee of twelve" meeting, postponed from last week, will be held at 7. The class in "Christian Healing" will begin at 2:30 p. m.

INSTALLATION HELD BY G. A. R. WOMEN

Mrs. Clara Moore was installed as president of Corporal Harris Circle No. 85, Ladies of the G. A. R., yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Maude Obenour on Silver street. Mrs. Kate Parish presided as the installing officer.

Mrs. Minnie Van Asbeck was installed as senior vice president; Mrs. Lydia Collins, junior vice president, Mrs. Mayme Fowler, chaplain, Mrs. Maude Obenour, secretary, Mrs. Leona Bishop, treasurer; Mrs. Ella Poland, conductor, Mrs. Mary Pryor, assistant conductor, Mrs. Emma Layton, guide, Mrs. Ida Wise, assistant guide, Mrs. Kate Parish, registrar; Mrs. Ida Miller, patriotic instructor. Plans were discussed for inspection Feb. 27. A meeting Jan. 23 will be with Mrs. Van Asbeck on McWilliams court.

GIRLS GUILD MEETS

A short business session and study hour were in charge of Miss Jean Heiser when the Girls Missionary guild of First Evangelical and Reformed church met Monday night at the home of Miss Jane Thomas on South Main street. Miss Mary Queen conducted devotions. Named on the nominating committee were Miss Mary Knuckle, Miss Marjorie Ebert and Miss Queen. Contests were won by Mrs. Esther Knuckle and Miss Marjorie Ebert. Refreshments were served.

P.-T.A. PREPARES FOR CITYWIDE MEETING

Several Speakers To Be Heard at Church Thurday.

In addition to Dr. Harry L. Bell, speakers for a community wide meeting sponsored by the Marion Council Parent-Teacher association Thursday night at Central Christian church will be Cecil Gabler, visiting teacher of the city schools, Mark McKinney, psychologist and instructor at Central Junior High school, D. M. M. Wenbaum, city health commissioner and Robert Hicks boys' work secretary at the Y. The program topic will be "Problems of Sex Education."

Mrs. W. E. Orcutt, president of the city organization, together with other officers, is anxious that persons or organizations interested in children, their conduct and welfare, as well as members of the P.-T. # Refugee Aid Stations in Finland Carry on Work of Famed Nansen

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 10—Nansen-ites, flying the red, white and blue flag of Norway, are rushing aid—this time on the war-ravaged Karelien isthmus of Finland.

For the third time in the past decade that this service for homeless refugees has been required, perpetuating an organization founded by a man who gained world fame a half century ago as an Arctic explorer.

Behind it is the story of a son's devotion to his father, and of personal sacrifices by both of them against the ever-mounting rolls of victims of wars, famines and politics.

Odd Nansen, the big, handsome son of the explorer, Fridtjof Nansen, has come to America to confer with Herbert Hoover on raising funds for the aid of Finland.

Many Russians Saved

"I am confident," he said, "that the Russians respect my father and Mr. Hoover, who worked together in saving the lives of at least 10,000,000 Russians when three times that many were starving in the famine of 1921-22. In memory of that work, I trust the Russians will not interfere with the work of the Nansen-aid stations in Finland."

In Austria, in Czechoslovakia and now to aid homeless Finns, the 38-year-old son of the explorer has turned from his career as an architect to direct activities of the "Nansen-hjelp," as his organization is known in Norwegian.

Young Nansen, built like a football fullback, studied three years in America, and now is architect of a new airport for Oslo, Norway's capital.

"My father gave up the last 10 years of his life to refugee work, until his death in 1930," he said. "Even the Nobel peace prize money won by the elder Nansen went into 'Nansen-hjelp.'"

More than 2,000,000 persons "without a country" are able today to pass the ever-tightening customs barriers of many nations because they carry a passport bearing the name and picture of Nansen. Five years before his death, the elder Nansen saw this memorial to his name inaugurated by the League of Nations.

Many Races Helped

"At first they were issued only to Russians overflowing Europe and the Armenians driven out of Turkey," said young Nansen, who since 1930 also has directed the Nansen passport office in Norway.

"The Armenians are still a serious refugee problem, although we have lost sight of it with so many European troubles," he said. "Later these passports were issued to Assyrians, Chaldeans, Christian Turks and refugees from the Saar, when that province voted to join Germany in 1935."

Although Germany admitted Nansen passport holders in peace years, it issued its own "fremden" passport to refugees leaving Germany.

"But my father would be even more happy to know his name is carried on with the revival of Nansen-aid," the son said. "He started it as a personal enterprise to get World war prisoners and others out of Russia when the League of Nations and Bolshevist regime wouldn't have anything to do with each other."

Odd Nansen organized a Nansen-aid office in Vienna before the Nazis took it over. Then to Czechoslovakia, where he said "several thousand were almost certain to be killed, if they were caught by Germans."

"I felt like an executioner because I had to pick only a few hundred to be saved—we had so little money," he said.

NAZIS TAKE FIRST BRITISH OFFICER

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, Jan. 10 — The official German news agency, DNB, today reported the capture of the first British officer on the western front.

The officer, a seriously wounded artilleryman who later died in a hospital, was captured Sunday by German advance guards, DNB said.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Slouch of Adolescence

SEVERAL weeks ago we said that the four great problems of the adolescent were posture, anemia, complexion and the endocrine system. Yielding to several requests, we will discuss these separately in articles this week.

The posture problem in adolescense is due to the perfectly natural fact that there is a disparity between the growth of the skeletal system and the growth of the muscular system. The child simply grows too fast to allow its muscles to keep it in good position; hence, we have the "debutante slouch" and the poor boy who is pestered by his father saying, "Throw your shoulders back."

The bad posture of adolescence usually corrects itself. As soon as the body acquires a more mature group of muscles and the skeleton stops growing, the bad posture of the earlier years of adolescence automatically corrects itself. Too much is probably made of bad posture by fussy parents, and sporadic reprimands are likely to make posture worse rather than to make it better. In most instances the scarehead injunctions of teachers, school nurses and social service workers are simply that —scareheads, and nothing more. Many orthopedists have pointed to the grave consequences of bad posture, saying that it displaces the internal organs, crowds the heart and lungs and stomach, etc., without, I think, making a very good point.

Defects May Occur

However, bad posture can get to the place where actual defects, such as curvature of the spine, may supervene. At some point along the line, then, the hour arrives when treatment must be instituted.

One of the greatest obstacles to posture training is the mental attitude of the child. He is almost invariably annoyed at being compelled to correct something that he doesn't consider important enough to merit attention. This psychological barrier can be overcome in the home or in the school by the use of outline photographs. Any child who can be caught and photographed from the side, standing in his natural, slouched position, and then photographed with a voluntary effort to stand erect, can be convinced that posture training is necessary by looking at these two photographs side by side.

Almost all posture defects are in the spine, and very simple exercises, which anyone can devise with the exercise of a little common sense, are all that is necessary to make correction.

The commandments of posture are:

1. Stand tall.
2. Sit tall.
3. Walk tall and chesty, with weight transmitted to the balls of your feet.
4. Draw in your abdomen.
5. Keep your shoulders square.
6. Pull your chin straight back toward your collar button.
7. Flatten the hollow of your back by rolling your pelvis down and back.
8. Spread your shoulders from your hips as far as possible.
9. Lie tall and sleep tall.
10. Think tall.

CLEVELAND COUNCIL BACKS EX-PRISONER

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 10 — Cleveland's city council has joined in efforts to block extradition of Carlton B. Chilton, convicted bank thief who became a respected citizen in 26 fugitive years.

Council urged Gov. Bricker to deny the request by Gov. Leon C. Phillips of Oklahoma, who previously refused Chilton's plea for a pardon. The extradition hearing at Columbus was postponed from yesterday to Thursday when Oklahoma officials failed to arrive.

Chilton walked away from the Oklahoma reformatory in 1914 while under sentence to two years for a $2,000 bank theft. He came to Ohio in 1920.

OHIOAN NAMED

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 10—Dr. Perrin H. Long, a native of Bryan, O., has been appointed head of a new preventive medicine department in the Johns Hopkins medical school. The department was created through a Rockefeller foundation grant of $350,000 over the next 10 years.

FIRE RAZES BUILDINGS

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Jan. 9 — The Akron Candy Co. counted itself lucky today. Three hours after the concern finished moving its equipment from two adjoining buildings opposite the University of Akron, the structures were destroyed by fire. Frank Zernotzy, assistant fire chief, estimated loss at $20,000 and said a discarded cigaret caused the blaze.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go
The liver should pour out two pints of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Gas allows up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.
It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 10c and 25c. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

Olga Gives Approval of Olina Taking Role in Madge's New Play

QUEEN OLGA'S body stiffened in her chair as if she had received an electric shock.

"Play a harp on the professional stage?" she ejaculated. "Olina?"

Then her face suffused with color, and she looked apologetically at me.

"How very presumptuous of her to make a request like that!" she said. "She has no professional training! She would ruin the performance! But we need not be concerned. I have heard so often of Philip's jealous standards for his productions that I am sure even his desire to please Olina would not permit him to give her a chance to hurt your play."

But that had not been her first reaction to my revelation of the request her daughter had made. It was the thought of her daughter, a princess, leaving her rarefied royal atmosphere to become a stage puppet which had stiffened her body and brought out her first involuntary exclamation.

"Gone American"

But it was not for me to assume comprehension of an emotion which she was camouflaging in the patent hope that I had not understood her meaning. It was my cue, instead, to answer her second utterance, which, from my brief experience of her directness, was equally sincere. But I wondered as I did so if my prediction to Mary concerning Olga's probable approval of Olina's stage ambitions would come true.

"I do not think 'presumptuous' is the word," I told her, smiling. "Your daughter simply has 'gone American.' Over here, talented youth has learned that audacity must lead ability. And while I agree with you that ordinarily an amateur actress would have no chance to get even a tiny place in the Veritzen organization, it so happens that Olina, with almost uncanny instinct, has seen a place in the play where a beautiful girl playing a harp would really add to the effectiveness of the scene. It will be no trouble for me to write in a few words for her which she can learn in ten minutes, and I can rehearse her with Mary so that when the real rehearsal comes tomorrow, she will be prepared for it. I am sure Mr. Veritzen will consent to her appearance if I tell him these things. But there is one thing I must know before I speak to him—of course, beside your approval."

"What is that one thing?" she asked, without committing herself as to her approval.

"About Olina's beauty there is no question," I said truthfully. I shall have no trouble there. But "Her speaking voice is charming.—how well can she play the harp?"

"She has had the best instructors in Europe for years." Olina's mother replied, and when she went on a little note of maternal pride had crept into her voice. "I really do not think it was flattery to royalty when they told us she could have a brilliant professional career if she wished."

"I think Mr. Veritzen would take your word on that," I said dryly. "But what about your approval of her appearing in the play?"

She waited for almost a full second before she replied, and I guessed that she was piling the earth high over the grave in which her old royal prejudices were interred.

"But, of course, I approve," she said at last. "Do you think it might lead to other professional appearances for her?"

"If she makes a success of an appearance in a Veritzen production, there is no question of that," I assured her.

"Then, I am very glad," she said. "She loves her playing as she does nothing else. A career would provide an outlet for her restlessness, and keep her out of mischief." She smiled faintly. "But she has no harp. It has been a great grief with her that we had to leave hers behind."

I gave her an encouraging smile. "If Philip Veritzen gives her permission to appear in the play," I said, "a number of harps will appear almost immediately at the farm house, so that Olina may choose the instrument which most suits her."

"He does things on a grand scale, Philip," she said softly.

"It is fortunate," I said, smiling at her meaningly, "that you are used to that scale. Am I wrong in assuming that you mean to give him the answer he craves this morning?"

COURT RULING REVERSES NLRB

Wagner Act Does Not Require Written Contract, Judges Decide

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Jan. 10—The Wagner act does not require collective bargaining contracts to be in writing, in the opinion of the United States circuit court of appeals.

The court's view was announced yesterday in a decision reversing an order by the national labor relations board in the Inland Steel company case.

In its order of Nov. 12, 1938, the NLRB ordered Inland to withdraw recognition of an independent union, bargain with the C.I.O. Steel Workers Organizing Committee, and put into writing any agreement that might be reached.

The court's opinion held that the Wagner act requires collective bargaining but not an agreement.

"The board recognizes that signed agreements are not required by the act in all instances and that an oral agreement would not be invalid if acceptable to both parties'," the opinion said.

"The statute is barren of an express language requiring a signed agreement and it must be held that no such agreement is required unless we are authorized to read into the term 'collective bargaining' the condition that all agreements, not some, must be reduced to writing."

A written contract was the major issue in the 1937 "little steel" strike against Inland and three other independents.

The court directed the labor board to hold a new hearing in the Inland case, sustaining the company's contention that it had been denied a full and fair hearing by Charles A. Wood, NLRB trial examiner.

In Washington house critics of the national labor board predicted that the decisions would intensify congressional sentiment for revisions in the Wagner act.

Rep. Ramspeck, Democrat of Georgia of the labor committee said the decisions indicated that the board was trying to construe the law "according to its own idea of what ought to be in it."

GRAND JURORS OPEN SESSION

Over 40 Witnesses Called in 17 Cases; Report Due Soon.

Marion county's January term grand jury, convening this morning at the order of Common Pleas Judge Hector S. Young, was expected to hear testimony from more than 40 witnesses in connection with approximately 17 cases.

County Prosecuting Attorney Paul D. Michel and Assistant Walter D. Moore, began a presentation of evidence and indicated that the grand jury session probably will continue through tomorrow. The jury is expected to report Friday or Saturday morning, officials said.

Charges against persons whose cases are slated to be considered by the jury range from issuing checks without funds to robbery and cutting with intent to wound.

Cases slated for grand jury attention and the charges in each follow:

William Gruver and James Furbreaking and entering, in connection with burglary of L. O. Hampton service station at Caledonia, Sept. 25; Paul Tanner and Robert Wertzebaugh, breaking and entering in connection with burglary of Warren Dutton garage at Marion, Dec. 14; Howard Thomas, assault of cutting with intent to wound Henry Jennings, Oct. 23; Henry Thompson, larceny, charged with stealing $35 belonging to Henry Johnson, Sept. 18; Ted Robbins, alias Jack Robbins, carrying concealed weapons, Sept. 4; Stephen Hall, passing worthless check for $19.68 dated Nov. 16 to Albert Steward and signed George Shirk; Arthur Arndt, embezzlement, accused of converting $147.40 belonging to Bernardle bowling league to his own use; filed May 22 by Harold H. E. Rhodes, issuing Oct. 15, check to Old Fort Mills, Inc., May 22, without funds; Paul Yenny, assault, charged with firing horse barn at Marion county fairgrounds, Sept. 8; Willard Hopkins, forgery, passing $20 check on Caledonia bank to Wilber Hickland and forged Charles Radcliff, Oct. 31; James McDonald, robbery, accused of robbing Ray Winslow, Dec. 19, of 13 cents; Lowell Dickerson, larceny charged with taking two bicycles belonging to Jesse Rech, Aug. 27; Gerald Whaley, automobile stealing, accused of taking automobile belonging to Elmer Lust, Sept. 22; Clifford Swartz, cutting with intent to wound Florence Swartz, Dec. 23; Charles A. Bough, ton, accused by Edith Ruby Boughton, Oct. 15, of abandonment of woman about to become a mother.

TRADE PACTS HIT BY CLARENCE BROWN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10—Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio) predicts that a "continuation of heavy increases in agricultural imports" will mean the "ruination of those who till the soil of America."

He put in the congressional record a statement that the balance of foreign trade in farm products was heavily against the American farmer as a result of reciprocal trade agreements.

"We must call a halt to the New Deal program of entering reciprocal trade agreements that work to the injury of our farmers through the flooding of American markets with farm products imported from foreign lands," Brown said.

Marion Shares 250,000 Birthday Cakes of Standard Oil Company

Distribution Today Is Feature of 70th Anniversary; Employes Attend Banquets.

Several thousand of the quarter of a million birthday cakes distributed today to customers of the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio in the public celebration of the company's seventieth birthday went to customers of the company's stations in Marion city and county.

J. P. Sharkey, manager of the Marion division, said the entire division was alloted 10,000 attractively boxed cakes.

Last night Mr. Sharkey and about 27 employes from Tiffin, Fostoria and Attica in the Marion division, attended a banquet at the Commodore Perry hotel in Toledo, one of six such affairs to be given this week in Ohio by the company. Friday night Mr. Sharkey and about 90 employes of the Marion division, including those in Marion city and county, will attend a banquet at the Neil House in Columbus.

Orchestra Feature

Walberg Brown, former Marion man who is now music director for station WGAR in Cleveland, and his symphonic orchestra have been engaged to play at the six banquets. Last night the orchestra played a half-hour program which was broadcast from the ballroom station by a Toledo station.

A company of about 20 entertainers from New York City and other large centers, has been engaged for the series of dinners.

About 800 persons were present last night, and about 700 are expected for the Columbus banquet, according to Mr. Sharkey. W. T. Holliday of Cleveland, president of the company, spoke last night and also will speak at the Columbus banquet.

The birthday cakes which the company is distributing today represent the largest single baking order of its kind ever placed, according to company officials. The 250,000 cakes, weighing a total of 62½ tons, required 31,000 pounds of flour, 35,000 pounds of sugar, 186,000 eggs, 25,000 pints of milk, 15,000 pounds of butter and shortening, 1,500 pounds of baking powder and 4,500 pounds of salt.

Miles of Frosting

The cakes have two layers and are frosted with 57,000 square feet of white frosting. The edges are decorated with 40 miles of red frosting and 19 miles of blue frosting were required to letter the word "Sohio" in the center of each cake. They are wrapped in a total of six acres of cellophane and packed in specially designed boxes which required five acres of box board. Piled one on top of another the boxed cakes would reach 8.3 miles into the air, nearly three miles higher than Mt. Everest, the world's loftiest mountain.

MARION COUNTY BANK OFFICERS REELECTED

Annual Meetings Held by Stockholders, Directors.

Reelection of all directors and officers, reports of excellent business in 1939 and a favorable outlook for the new year featured annual meetings of directors and stockholders of the Marion County Bank yesterday afternoon.

The directors reelected by the stockholders, all for one year, are: John H. Clark, Hayes Thompson, O. E. Kennedy, Harold J. Grigsby, H. J. Barnhart, Henry A. True, Charles H. Isaly and M. E. Burke.

The directors reelected Mr. Kennedy president along with the other officers as follows: Mr. True, vice president; E. L. Bush, cashier; R. C. Snare, W. K. Tobin and R. N. Heininger, assistant cashiers, and Mr. Clark, attorney.

near the Canary islands, but were beaten off by convoying cruisers, with one submarine sunk.

The Royal Mail Liner Highland Patriot arrived in Rio De Janeiro Monday with a story of escaping a submarine after a two-hour battle in the vicinity of the Canaries Dec. 29.

Similarity and strength of the attacks were reported in the Brazilian capital to have led British warships to search for a German base near the Canaries, Spanish-owned isles off the African coast.

Germans Claim 8 Ships Sunk

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, Jan. 10—The German high command today reported eight British vessels had been sunk by German planes in the North sea yesterday.

The German communique said raiding planes off Norwich attacked and sank two merchant ships and their two convoy vessels, and that German scouting planes sank four armed merchantmen which shot at them off the Scottish coast.

Grand Admiral Erich Raeder, commander in chief of the German navy, inspected the Kiel and Wilhelmshaven naval buses yesterday and warned workers there against enemy efforts to sow "disunity," which he said, "through the centuries we repeatedly have broken."

The enemy, he said, "fears a sharp German sword. Therefore he seems to make the blade blunt by sowing mistrust, spreading rumors, using inciting propaganda, tracking down secrets through agents, and plotting sabotage."

LIVESTOCK TEAM COACH ADVANCED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 10—Donald J. Kays, who gained national fame as coach of Ohio State university's student livestock judging teams, was named today chairman of the school's department of animal husbandry effective July 1.

Professor Kays will succeed Dr. Carl W. Gay, who asked to be relieved of administrative responsibilities after 20 years as chairman. Dr. Gay will devote his full time to teaching.

ITALY AIDS HUNGARY IN TERRITORY CLAIM

By The Associated Press

BUDAPEST, Jan. 10—Apparently united with Italy in a determination to block any Russian expansion in southeastern Europe, Hungary sought today a settlement of her differences with Rumania for a common front in the Balkans.

Informed persons said King Carol would be pressed for a speedy reply to Hungarian overtures for a settlement of territorial questions. Foreign Minister Count Istvan Csaky reported yesterday to the crown council on his week-end talks with Italy's foreign minister, County Galeazzo Ciano.

Hungarian and Italian sources made it clear that should Rumania get to remove the 21-year-old bitterness over her acquisition of Transylvania, she could be assured of full support from both nations against any possible Russian thrust into Bessarabia.

Bessarabia went from Russia to Rumania and Transylvania from Hungary to Rumania in World war territorial changes.

If Rumania ignores an invitation for a settlement with Hungary, these sources indicated, Italy and Hungary are prepared to leave her to her fate. Moreover, Hungarians asserted that should the Red army penetrate the Rumanian frontier, Hungary would enter Transylvania.

Some informed persons said Ciano had brought pressure on Csaky to be content with a promise backed by an Italian guarantee of its fulfillment.

The newspaper Uj Magyarsag (New Hungary) said Italy was prepared to protect southeastern Europe against a Soviet attack, and that Rumania, as well as Hungary, could count on her support.

MURPHY PROTESTS BEFORE COMMITTEE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan 10—Senator Burke (D-Neb.) said today that a "number" of protests against appointment of Attorney General Frank Murphy as an associate justice of the supreme court had been received by the senate judiciary committee.

Burke is chairman of the judiciary subcommittee appointed to act on the Murphy appointment.

The protests, Burke said, included letters and telegrams which would be examined by the subcommittee before deciding on hearings.

The nomination of James H. R. Cromwell, husband of wealthy Doris Duke, to be minister to Canada was approved today by the senate foreign relations committee.

Other nominations for high diplomatic and governmental positions, submitted by President Roosevelt last week, among them Charles Edison to be secretary of the navy, won approval of various committees and were dispatched to the senate for final action.

SCHOOL LEVY VOTED

CONSERVATION HEAD SERIOUSLY INJURED

Man Who Recently Spoke Here Is Accident Victim.

H. A. (Buck) Rider, assistant state conservation commissioner, who a week ago visited Marion to address a meeting of the Marion County Fish & Game Protective association, is in serious condition at a Springfield hospital today as the result of injuries suffered in an automobile accident early yesterday.

Mr. Rider, a resident of Springfield, was reported "still in danger" at noon today by hospital attendants, The Associated Press reported. Physicians said a slight improvement was noted. He was given a transfusion last night to counteract loss of blood when his right leg was amputated below the knee.

The 44-year-old conservation official is widely known. He stopped in Marion frequently and was well-known among local sportsman although his first visit in his official capacity was only a week ago when he addressed the fish and game association. He joined the conservation department a year ago yesterday as executive secretary to Commissioner Don G. Waters.

Mr. Rider was returning to his Springfield home from a speaking engagement at London when the accident occurred. His automobile skidded on an icy street and struck a tree. He was unconscious for 10 hours after the accident, suffering a mangled right leg, brain concussion and other injuries.

Before being connected with the conservation department he served as an assistant football coach at Wittenberg college and later became one of Springfield's best known insurance salesmen.

OHIO FAIR DIRECTORS MEET IN COLUMBUS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 10—Officials of Ohio's 90 county and independent fairs assembled today to compare notes in preparation for 1940 exhibitions.

Mrs. Don A. Detrick of Bellefontaine, secretary, predicted more than 2,000 delegates would attend the two-day annual convention of the Ohio Fair Managers' association.

Discussions of technical problems of fair management and an "open forum" highlighted opening day.

Charles J. Gray of Painesville, president of the association, appealed to women for greater interest in domestic art exhibits.

Dr. Hugh M. Parshall of Urbana, nation's leading harness race driver for 12 of the past 13 years, will speak tonight at the annual meeting of the United States Trotting association, district No. 1.

Gov. Bricker is scheduled as banquet speaker Thursday night.

FARM INCOME SHOWS DECLINE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10—The income of American farmers from marketings during the first 11 months of 1939 was estimated at $6,360,000,000 by the agriculture department today. This was two per cent less than the income during the similar 1938 period.

This income was supplemented by government benefit payments of $715,000,000. Federal subsidies in the January-November period of 1938 amounted to $443,000,000.

The department said the income from sales of principal crops was larger in the first 11 months of 1939 than in the same months of 1938 in the north Atlantic, west north-central and western regions, but was smaller in the other regions.

The 11-month income, with government benefit payments, by states for 1938 and 1939, respectively, included Ohio $267,333,000 and $266,792,000.

JAP BEETLE CONTROL MAY BE STOPPED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 — A conference to determine whether to withdraw the federal quarantine against the Japanese beetle and end cooperation with the states in the campaign against the insect will be held here Feb. 27.

Dr. Lee A. Strong, chief of the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, called the meeting to hear whether those interested believed the benfits derived were worth the costs.

The agriculture department said that the federal-state program, started in 1919, has restricted the spread of the beetle, but can not entirely stop it. A survey last year showed an additional spread of the beetle in Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and Indiana among other states.

UNION CO. FARM PROGRAM PLANNED

To Be Given Tomorrow at Marysville School Auditorium.

Plans were completed today for an AAA institute to be held tomorrow at the Marysville High school auditorium under sponsorship of the Union County Agricultural Conservation association and the state extension service.

At the morning session, starting at 9:45, a talk on "Is There a Farm Problem?" will be given by Harry Donahoo of Clinton county, field representative for the Ohio Agricultural Conservation association. E. E. Durre of Columbus, director of commodity loans in Ohio, will speak on the federal crop insurance program and L. G. Brubaker, Union county agriculture agent, will speak on "The Agricultural Outlook."

At the afternoon session, starting at 1 p. m., Mr. Donahoo will speak on the 1940 federal conservation and Mr. Durre will speak on crop loans and "The Need for Cooperation."

In addition to the talks there will be several musical selections. Lunch will be served at Marysville Presbyterian church by women of the church.

MARION-LIMA BUS LINE SALE APPROVED

Greyhound Lines, Inc., Now Owner Beginning Jan. 15.

Purchase of the outstanding capital stock of the Marion-Lima Transit Co. by the Ohio Greyhound Lines, Inc., was authorized today by the state utilities commission, it was reported from Columbus by The Associated Press. The purchase price was not listed.

The Marion-Lima line has its principal office in Columbus and operates between Columbus and Lima, via Marion and Kenton, and between Columbus and Toledo, via Marion, Upper Sandusky and Fostoria, it was reported here.

It is understood that the Greyhound line will take over operation of the same system Jan. 15. At present the Greyhound company operates buses between Columbus and Toledo, via Marion, Bucyrus, Tiffin and Fremont.

The change in ownership will bring about more frequent runs between Marion and other nearby cities, it was reported here. In the past, local passengers traveling between points within the state served by local companies, were not permitted to purchase fares between the same points on inter-state buses.

CLOSE VOTE SEEN ON TRADE PROGRAM

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 — A survey of the house ways and means committee indicated today a close vote on the bill extending the reciprocal trade program, with the odds favoring a recommendation of approval.

The committee, headed by Chairman Doughton, Democrat of North Carolina, will open hearings on the trade agreements act tomorrow. Secretary Hull will be the first witness in support of the extension.

An informal poll of the 15 Democratic and 10 Republican members showed that the "sure" vote is now 10 Democrats for the bill and the 10 Republicans against it. The other five Democrats are still undecided.

Rep. Disney, Democrat of Oklahoma, one of the five, said that he "generally favored the trade agreements program under the state department, but was opposed to any program in which excise taxes are treated as tariffs."

Disney said he referred specifically to the fact that under the Venezuelan agreement, which went into effect Dec. 16, the excise tax on Venezuelan crude oil was reduced from one-half cent to one-fourth cent a gallon.

Rep. Boland, Democrat of Pennsylvania, is understood to be considering his position in the light of how the reduced excise tax may effect the Pennsylvania oil and coal industries.

of its money in Ohio flood relief.

The President had offered a "handsome prize" to Taft, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, if he could show how to balance the budget. Taft responded in a speech in Chicago last week.

The presidential rejoinder came at a press conference late yesterday, with every indication that he was not ready to award the prize. Taft quickly retorted with a statement saying:

"The truth is, of course, that Mr. Roosevelt does not want to balance the budget.

"The President has picked out some of the examples I gave of bureaus which might be eliminated but says that they only total $8,000,000 which, in New Deal style, he considers to be nothing.

"He says nothing of the 75,000 extra employes of the department of agriculture; of the extra $1,200,000,000 he has added to the federal payrolls; of the savings of $875,000,000 which I pointed out could be effected in relief, or any of the other more important items."

NEW SEARS, ROEBUCK MANAGER NAMED

W. J. Toole Brought Here as C. W. Rowland Is Promoted.

Announcement of a change in managers at the Marion store of the Sears, Roebuck & Co. at 231 West Center street was made today. C. W. Rowlands who has been manager since the store was established last spring has been promoted to the managership of the Mt. Oliver store of the Pittsburgh, Pa., district.

He has been succeeded here, effective today, by W. J. Toole, who was promoted from the assistant managership of the Reading, Pa., store. Mr. Rowlands has already left to take up his new duties.

Mr. Toole, who arrived yesterday, announced that there will be no changes in the policies or personnel of the store.

He has not established a residence here yet, but probably will live at 774 Mt. Vernon avenue, Mr. Rowlands' residence. Mrs. Toole is expected to join Mr. Toole here in the near future.

Mr. Toole has been with the company for 11 years. For three years he was in the sales promotion division working through the Ohio territory out of the national office at Chicago. He was assistant manager at Reading for a year. Mr. Toole is a graduate of the Wharton school of finance of the University of Pennsylvania.

MRS. FREEMAN OF NEAR LA RUE DIES

Death Comes Suddenly; Lifelong Resident of County.

Special to The Star

LARUE, O., Jan. 10—Mrs. Metta Tavenner Freeman, 62, widely-known in this vicinity, died suddenly of a heart attack yesterday at the home two miles north of LaRue. She had suffered from a heart ailment for some time, but her death was sudden. Funeral arrangements will await the arrival of her son, Robert Freeman of Columbus, who left Sunday for Clearwater, Fla. He will return by plane.

Mrs. Freeman was a lifelong resident of Marion county. Surviving are the husband, Harry H. Freeman, two sons and three daughters, including Mrs. Doris Virden of LaRue. Mrs. Freeman was a member of the LaRue Order of Eastern Star and the Pythian Sisters. Friends may call at the home after 5 p. m. today.

UNION COUNTY MAN DIES IN COLUMBUS

Special to The Star

RICHWOOD, O., Jan. 10—William H. Fulton, 72, formerly of near Summersville, died yesterday in a Columbus hospital where he had been under treatment for a number of years. He was born on Feb. 10, 1867 in Union county, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fulton. His wife, Mrs. Roxanna McNeal Fulton, died four years ago. The body was brought to the Sanders funeral home, where the funeral will be conducted Thursday at 2 p. m. The body will be placed in the Claiborne mausoleum.

ENDS LIFE

moved to the W. C. Boyd funeral home.

When informed of the disappearance of Mrs. Shrider in Kenton, police here contacted Kenton police by radio and arranged to have members of the family come here to verify the identification tentatively made from names on a money order among her possessions.

Members of the family said Mrs. Shrider had been brooding over the death of her invalid son, Harley, 22, who shot himself at the Shrider home Nov. 11, 1938. In reporting her disappearance to Kenton police, Mr. Shrider said Mrs. Shrider had threatened to take her life and that members of the family had been watching her closely, according to a news report from Kenton. When she left home she had approximately $40 and only about half that amount was found in the hotel room here.

Mr. Shrider, who was in Lima today searching for his wife, yesterday told Kenton police Mrs. Shrider had appeared extremely nervous recently and a few days ago told him she might go either to Marion or Columbus to consult a specialist.

Surviving with the husband, a salesman, are three children, Bernard, 9, Crystal, 18, and Audrey, 15, and several brothers and sisters. The family has lived in Kenton for more than 20 years.

LYNCHING BILL UP IN HOUSE SHORTLY

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10—The anti-lynching bill was wrapped up for house passage today in a torrent of debate over who—if any one—is playing politics with the Negro vote.

The Democrats said it was the Republicans; the Republicans said it was the Democrats. Despite the argument among supporters of the bill, there was one thought that it would pass with votes to spare by the end of the day.

St. Mary Cagers Work Out for Tiffin and Morral Foes

Will Visit Calvert Friday Night for League of Six Nations Tilt.

By CHARLES HOSTETLER
Marion Star Sports Editor

RETURNING to the practice court after three days' rest, Marion St. Mary basketball hopefuls yesterday began loading their heavy artillery for this week's doubleheader.

The Saints will be on the road Friday, traveling to Tiffin Calvert for a League of Six Nations encounter. A Saturday night engagement before home fans will pit the Irish warriors against Morral, third county foe on their current schedule.

In an effort to revive the spirit and general floorwork of his cohorts, Coach Bernard Berens ordered a three-day respite from regular scrimmage sessions. So they've bided their time doing anything but practicing basketball since last Friday's tiff with Carey.

The Saints' turned back the Wyandot county visitors, 33-31, for the seventh win in nine starts, but their form didn't impress Mentor Berens. Of the opinion that they might be suffering a slight overdose of cagelitis by playing three games in six days, "Doc" Berens wrote his own prescription. Total abstinence from handling those leather inflated pills was his verdict.

Good Treatment

Yesterday's practice indicated his club bounced back fast and that they've safely passed what might have been a bad case of the jitters. They zipped the ball around with enthusiasm and their basket eyes were turned considerably finer than they were for the Carey imbroglio.

Heaviest fighting for League of Six Nations honors comes this month for the local Irish club. In addition to Friday's visit to Tiffin Calvert, the Saints smack up against the same club in the observance of league night at Crestline, Jan. 26, while Crestline is host to the Saints Jan. 19.

St. Mary and Crestline are the teams to beat in L. of S. N. competition since they shared last year's circuit championship. For the same reason they are heated rivals and each has gotten away to a good start this season by winning initial loop games. Should the Saints get by Calvert they will carry a perfect record to the Crestline court a week hence.

Junior High Outlook

Basketball activity for the parochial school will not be confined to high school competition, as potential members of the junior high club are tuning up for their opening game Friday afternoon. The Saints' junior high squads open a six-game schedule with a visit to the Thomas A. Edison court. Two games will be played, seventh graders meeting in the first at 3:30 and the junior high varsity clubs clashing in the second.

The trip to the West Side gymnasium is one of the few afternoon programs for the Irish. Most of the games will be played at night and all on the home court are to be preliminaries to high school varsity contests. The schedule calls for St. Mary to play Edison, Friday; entertain Forest, Jan. 26, as a prelim to the Forest duel; at Vernon, Jan. 25, a return engagement with Edison as a preliminary to the Columbus Aquinas visit here, Jan. 27; at Central, Feb. 7 and a home game with Vernon, the date of which has not been definitely set.

JUNIOR HIGH CAGERS TO START TOMORROW

Central-Vernon Game at 7 To Be First of Season.

Central and Vernon Heights basketball teams will fire the opening blast in the city junior high school league when quintets from the two schools collide on Vernon's court tomorrow night.

The two-game card marks the opening of the fourth season of junior high ball. The host club for the inaugural, Vernon, has copped three straight league titles. Again under the tutelage of J. Eugene Auld, the East Siders hope to get off to a good start in the scrap to defend the crown.

Vernon dribblers were handicapped earlier in the year when they were without the use of a gymnasium while their home court was undergoing repairs. The work was made necessary when flood waters last summer inundated the gymnasium.

Reserve and varsity games are scheduled in each of the meetings between junior high schools. Tomorrow night's first game will start at 7.

Men of the Decade in Sports

GEHRIG

By DILLON GRAHAM
Sports Editor, AP Feature Service

NEW YORK — Babe Ruth overshadowed him as the Thirties came in, Joe DiMaggio outshined him as the Forties approached. But during that 10-year stretch he was the "Iron Horse," durable, powerful, dependable. Lou Gehrig is our choice as baseball's Man of the Decade.

THIRD IN A SERIES

Through the stretch he was one of the American league's fanciest hitters and the key figure and captain of the New York Yankees, perhaps the greatest team ever assembled.

Lou was sports' most durable star. His only rivals were polo's Tommy Hitchcock and track's Glenn Cunningham. He was the last word in instability. In May paralysis forced him to end his consecutive game string at 2,130—about a thousand more games than any other player had competed in consecutively, a record that most likely never will be surpassed. For more than 14 years he played in every Yankee game, regular season and World Series.

Plenty of Aces

The Thirties produced some great diamond aces — Slugger Jimmy Foxx, home run biffer, twice American league batting champion, three times runs batted in leader, Joe Medwick, one of the finest hitters in National league annals.

Dizzy Dean, the popoff guy with the buggy-whip arm who won more than 20 games a year for four straight seasons. Lefty Grove, who led the American league in earned-run pitching average for nine years, won 108 games in four seasons.

Carl Hubbel, 20-plus winner for five successive years, probably the National league's best of the Thirties. DiMaggio, who came with a rush late in the stretch and may go down as No. 1 among baseball's all-time aces. Bob Feller, Mel Ott, Red Ruffing.

They were great. But, in our book, Gehrig was the man.

Three times in the decade he led his league in runs-batted-in and set a record at 184 in 1931. Once, in 1934, he was batting champion. Three years ago he was voted the most valuable player.

For 13 straight years he scored 100 or more runs. Thirteen years he hit for 300 or more total bases. Thirteen seasons he batted in 100 or more runs. He hit four home runs in one game and blasted 23 homers with the bases loaded. These were all records.

He played in seven world series, 34 games, with a batting average of .361 and held the record for runs batted in with 35. It would require a column of type to list his records.

Ruth the Standout

Ruth was the outstanding figure among the Yankees during most of Gehrig's years, although Lou, lacking the Babe's color, outplayed him some of those years. And when Ruth passed on Gehrig had only a year or so of glory before the great rookie DiMaggio ousted him as the top Yankee attraction.

Neither Gehrig, the Man of the Thirties, nor the top figure of any other baseball decade could compare with Ruth, who dominated the game in the Twenties. Ruth's feats are still too well remembered to warrant much repeating here. His fame was based chiefly on his cannonading, particularly his ability to crash out home runs. When he quit he had 76 records on the book. Before he turned to outfielding he was one of the best southpaw pitchers.

He earned the biggest salary in history, $80,000 in 1930-31, and took more than three-quarters of a million in salary during his playing days. Babe's every turn was front page news. His tummy ache in North Carolina from eating too many hot dogs was chronicled around the world. Babe will always remain as the greatest figure in baseball history.

Smith Team Nears All Star Lead; Lions and Marion Stars Pace Office League.

Smith Clothing Co. keglers compiled the best team total of 2,934 in winning three straight games over the Buettin Sales to move within a single game of the league-leading Marion Builders & Supply entry during Tuesday night contests in the All Star league. A 1,042 round by Marion Auto Finance, Schoenlaub's 269 and Shoemaker's 671 match led the scoring.

Dean Lucas chalked up a trio of double-century games, 219, 214 and 211 for a 644 series to help the Lions Club to honor scores of 857 and 2,381 in Office league matches. The Lions and Marion Star quintets annexed their ninth consecutive victories in as many starts. The clubs meet Sunday afternoon at 4:30 in a match which was previously postponed.

MANY SEEK KERN'S JOB AT CARNEGIE

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 10 — A half-dozen applications for the coaching job at Carnegie Tech reached Athletic Director Clarence Overend within less than 24 hours after Bill Kern resigned.

The first came from Claude (Tiny) Thornhill, former Pitt star who recently was dropped as coach at Stanford.

Dr. Eddie Baker, Kern's chief assistant for three years, is regarded as the leading candidate to replace him. All signs point to Kern moving to West Virginia university.

Max Phillians of Ostrander and Ray Jennings of Sunbury, both formerly active with their home high schools in the Delaware county basketball league, are members of the freshman team at Otterbein college, Westerville, according to news reports from the school's publicity bureau. They remain as the only central Ohio representatives on the frosh lineup since Coach Harry Ewing cut the roster to 14 members.

WILDCAT STAR PACES SCORING IN BIG TEN

Klein Racks Up 26 Points in Two Games.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Jan. 10 — Richard Klein, Northwestern's sophomore center, is the new scoring leader in the Big Ten basketball campaign.

Klein, held to a meager five points in the Wildcats' league debut Saturday, opened up against Minnesota Monday, swishing the net for 21 points — high for a single game this season in conference competition.

He displaced Paul Armstrong of Indiana, who collected only six points in his second game for a two-game total of 23 — good enough for fifth place. Trailing Klein by two points are sophomore Walter Evers of Illinois, Bob Schwartz of Wisconsin and Mike Sofiak of Michigan.

Of the three Big Ten teams still unbeaten in league play, Indiana has the toughest test in the next round of games Saturday. The Hoosiers, pre-season title favorite engage Minnesota at Minneapolis. The Gophers, while rated considerably below the top-flight, have a dangerous aggregation of scorers.

Purdue, most impressive team so far in the race, entertains Wisconsin at LaFayette and Michigan, the third undefeated five, is host to Iowa's twice-beaten outfit.

In the other two games Illinois plays Ohio State at Columbus and Chicago plays at Northwestern.

The scoring leaders:

| | G | FT | TP |
|---|---|---|---|
| Klein, C, Northwestern | 11 | 4 | 26 |
| W. Evers, F, Illinois | 9 | 6 | 24 |
| Sofiak, F, Michigan | 9 | 6 | 24 |
| Schwartz, F, Wisconsin | 10 | 4 | 24 |
| Armstrong, F, Indiana | 10 | 3 | 23 |
| Rae, F, Michigan | 10 | 1 | 21 |

| Siegel, F, Iowa | 7 | 5 | 19 |
| Shepard, G, Northwestern | 8 | 3 | 19 |
| Carlson, F, Minnesota | 6 | 7 | 19 |

(All in two games, except Schwartz who has been in three)

Conn To Turn Heavy Tonight

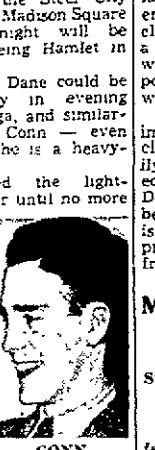
Handsome Billy Will Meet Henry Cooper on Road to Joe Louis Bout.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 10—Watching Billy Conn, the Steel City sock maker, in his Madison Square Garden fight tonight will be something like seeing Hamlet in a tuxedo.

The Melancholy Dane could be just as unhappy in evening clothes as in a toga, and similarly, Conn is still Conn — even though this time he is a heavyweight.

Having climbed the light-heavyweight ladder until no more rungs were left, the Pittsburgh powerhouse decided to become a heavyweight. Not because he liked to fight the bigger guys, but because there is more money in that division — and Conn isn't in the fight game just for the fun of wearing satin pants.



CONN

So Billy, the light - heavyweight king, signed as a heavyweight to meet Steve Dudas, a veteran trial horse, but that worthy caught an attack of la grippe. So Billy must try out his heavier artillery on Henry Cooper of Brooklyn. A husky 190-pounder, Cooper has no more imagination than a clock, but possesses a very good straight left hand punch.

Actually the Pittsburgher, who remaining out of the ring since last November, has now gained enough weight to move up a class, although he will weigh only a pound over the light-heavyweight limit of 175 and some 10 pounds over his best fighting weight in that class.

Nearly everyone, except the immediate members of the Cooper clan, think Conn will win handily. After this bout, he is expected to meet Johnny Paycheck of Des Moines. Conn thinks it will be only a matter of time until he is in there with Joe Louis — a prospect that doesn't seem to frighten him the way it should.

MUSKINGUM LEADS OHIO CONFERENCE

Steps Out in Front of Bowlin Green Team.

Muskingum rules the Ohio Conference basketball race alone today.

The New Concord five snapped a first-place tie with Bowling Green, victorious in both league starts, by stopping Marietta, 56 to 34.

In other conference tussles last night Oberlin defeated Kenyon 55 to 43; Ashland downed Baldwin-Wallace, 41 to 25, and Mount Union overcame Heidelberg 27 to 27.

In independent games Ursinus College of New York beat Youngstown, 47 to 38; Dayton edged Wittenberg, 42 to 39, and Findlay checked Adrian of Michigan, 37 to 32.

A Job Finds a Man

THE long hunt by trustees of Ohio State university for a president suitable to them, to the state and who also would be suited by the university proves there is no unemployment in at least one classification of American enterprise. Here was a plain case of a job hunting a man.

Dr. Howard L. Bevis, who gets the honor of standing at the head of the state's largest university—and fifth largest in the nation—is an unusual combination of lawyer, educator, public servant and author. He will come to his new post from Harvard university, where he was a teacher in the school of business administration. A native Ohioan, he has served his state as supreme court judge, finance director, as a member of the relief commission and as professor of law in Cincinnati university. It would be difficult to imagine a man better grounded in the problems and resources of the state than Dr. Bevis.

His appointment gives promise of restoring to Ohio State some of the prestige it has lost by being so long without a president. The trustees' difficulty in obtaining a successor to Dr. George W. Rightmire suggested that perhaps there was some reason why the job wasn't finding a man aside from its great responsibility. Acceptance of the position by Dr. Bevis dispels all doubt. He seems to have the qualities that will enable him to administer the university's complex affairs capably.

Rough Estimates

IT IS beginning to dawn on skeptics that the Finns can't be as good as their casualty reports on the Russian army hint they are. Paul Mallon tells what Washington is saying about this matter—if the Finns had killed as many Russians as they say they've killed, the war would be over.

A glance at some of the recent stories from the Finnish front reveals what probably has been happening. Without going into detail, which quickly would bog down in numerals anyway, one discovers that in the first place a Russian division is of indeterminate size—anywhere from 15,000 to 18,000. So when the Finns "surround" or "cut off" a "division" they don't know how many men are involved. Then, as they proceed to weed out their victims they naturally err in their own favor when compiling casualty lists. The net result is a succession of staggering figures that probably don't tell nearly so much about the war as the way the war looks to the Finns.

They are up against an invader vastly superior in numbers—a clumsy, bungling invader that has cannon fodder to burn and is burning it. Finns claim they killed 100,000 in the first month of the war. Perhaps it was only 10,000, or it might have been 200,000. The Finns can't be held accountable for rough estimates. It must seem as though a million Russians had been lined up for them to shoot at, and they don't see how they can miss.

SCENE: A barbershop. Characters: A barber and a customer. The customer is speaking.

"What do you make of the President's asking for more than eight billion dollars to run the country next year?"

The barber snips reflectively, then replies:

"Well, it's like me and water. I can understand what a little lake looks like because I can see a little lake. I can even grasp the idea of Lake Erie, because I've waded in part of it. But when somebody starts talking about the ocean it's too much for me—it's just the big blue part on a map. If you ask me what's wrong with this country, friend, it's the fact everything about it has grown so dad-blamed big us little people can't find the handles on it any more. Shall I put some tonic on the hair?"

M. L. Davey Will Hate This

THE state finance director's report showing that Ohio finished 1939 with a surplus of $2,425,000 in the treasury may be expected to elicit the customary scream of anguish from Martin L. Davey.

Mr. Davey, if he hasn't done so already, will shout far and wide that "it ain't so." He will produce figures by the peck to show that instead of a neat surplus there's an enormous deficit. We don't know where Mr. Davey gets his figures, but they're always different.

He will deny that Gov. Bricker has been able to save a penny and will repeat that M. L. Davey was the penny-pinchingest governor Ohio ever had. He will charge high jinks and juggling in state finances.

If Mr. Davey's in good form he will sneer that Gov. Bricker is playing politics and pretending to save money at the expense of widows and orphans—though bear in mind, he will warn, that the governor's just pretending, not actually accomplishing.

All of which will be mildly interesting as proof that Mr. Davey still hasn't become reconciled to the fact that he isn't in Columbus any more and that the governor who is in Columbus is making a name for himself as an economy advocate at Mr. Davey's political expense.

Handpicking of Uninstructed Democratic Delegates Reported Under Way in South.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Jan 10—A sly movement has been started in four or five southern states to handpick uninstructed delegates to the next Democratic national convention without a primary or even a state convention.

State laws apparently permit the state central committees of democracy in Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia and Arkansas, under some circumstances, to choose the delegates for nominating a candidate for the presidency, without consultation with the voters—and this is what is proposed to be done.

Paul Mallon

The red hot issue is due to come to the surface Friday in Florida when the state central committee meets, unless certain party leaders who are rushing for the water buckets here douse the fire in the meantime. It is said Florida's staunch New Deal Senator Pepper is on his way home with the last Washington word on the subject, but it is not known whether he carries a bucket or a torch.

A carefully chosen uninstructed delegation would naturally serve the cause of the New Dealers best at this time because they have no announced candidate. This is especially true in the south where a southerner, Mr. Garner, the vice president, is an open, avowed candidate.

May Be Blocked

Back in 1932 it was the New Dealers who blocked a similar movement to choose delegates surreptitiously. James A. Farley, the present national chairman, then issued a statement denouncing such efforts in strongest terms. It is understood here he will re-issue the same statement again if the Florida meeting starts that kind of a conflagration.

Louisiana (under Huey Long) is the only state which came to that convention with a crew chosen from the top instead of the bottom of the electorate. The delegation was finally seated on the plea that the state had suffered from flood, but four years earlier the Houston convention kicked out a Louisiana delegation which had been chosen the same way, without a flood.

This time the movement is reported to be very strong among some of Mr. Roosevelt's friends in Georgia and Alabama, as well as Florida, although the state committees have not yet even been notified that a national convention will be held. The call will not be issued by national headquarters until Feb. 5.

Southern congressmen here are much aroused, believing it will give the party a bad start. Says one: "If we are going to select delegates in blank, why not nominate the candidate in blank? We could elect John Doe."

Labor Board Curtailment

Mr. Roosevelt's congressional leaders think they have noted a quiet nod from the White House for curtailment of appropriations for the national labor relations board. The President avoided the subject in his message on the state of the union and cut the board only an infinitesimal $9,600 (leaving it $2,180,000) in his budget.

But to officials and legislative friends he has been complaining sharply that the board has been doing a lot more things than the law allowed, and beyond what he specifically told it to do in his official statement when he signed the act. At that time he announced it "would not act as mediator, or conciliator in labor disputes," among other things. But it has.

The Smith hearings disclosed for instance that Board Secretary Witt went traveling about the country at government expense to help C.I.O. organize its case against little steel. Soon evidence will be made public that a Los Angeles agent of the board went around to both C.I.O. and A.F.L. soliciting business.

Mediation is the business of another government department, the conciliation service, under the direction of John R. Steelman, which incidentally has been an exceptional success, approved by labor and capital without criticism.

Colors Play Important Part in Nazi Life During War.

As in all warring countries, cartoons like this one from Kladderdatsch help keep up spirit behind the front. Called "Rest, Britannia, Under the Waves," it's a comment on German success in the war at sea.

Second of three stories on what's happened to Mr. Average Man in countries at war.

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Associated Press Feature Service Writer

BERLIN, Jan 10—Life in embattled Germany presents itself to the average civilian in colors of the rainbow.

The citizen ventures out at night, sober; then, bang, he strikes a lamp post in darkened street. First lesson in color: Forehead, next morning, is black and blue, and possibly green.

Wisened by that experience, he buys a pocket lamp if he can find a shop that still has them, and inserts a piece of the blue or red paper over the bulb so as not to throw too much light. If he cannot get a flashlight, he buys an old-fashioned barn lantern, with red, green or blue glass. The colors grow.

Button, Button

Also, he buys a phosphorescent button for his lapel. That is to signal to fellow pedestrians, "Look out! Don't bump into me!" If he's of a fanciful mind, he buys a tomcat, a monkey or some other little pet carved out of the phosphorescent material. If he's a cavalier, he presents his lady with a phosphorescent rose, lily or forget-me-not.

Next morning, color life starts all over. The male of the species makes sure that he has his yellow certificate, entitling him to purchase five liters (about five quarts) of gasoline per coupon. He also makes sure he takes his red bread card, his blue meat card, and his pink card for staples like rice, maccaroni, lentils, etc., with him to present at his favorite restaurant.

The choice of dishes is made rapidly. On two days of the week, no meat is to be had. And on other days no restaurant can offer more than half a dozen choices of main dishes.

Meanwhile, the gentleman's

White garments help pick out traffic cops in blacked-out German cities.

faithful spouse has spent about half an hour putting away all signs of last night's black-out.

Foods By Colors

Next she starts her daily shopping. To the red, blue and pink cards of the sort her husband has taken, she adds a white card for marmalade and sugar, a yellow card for fats, margarine and oil, and brown card for soap. Not that she will be able to get all the articles she wants; her tradesman may shrug and say, "Sorry, madam, but our new contingent hasn't come as yet."

The color scheme is continued by other citizens standing in line with her. There's the choleric wife of the dentist next door, her face turns purple as she cusses the war and wishes it were over. There's the young postman's wife, she turns red with anger because the butcher can't supply her. Her husband has been transferred from Poland to the western front, and she wants so badly to have a nice chop for Fritz during his one-day furlough.

Meanwhile the man of the house has reached his office. He tells his secretary to go out and buy some badly-needed towels. "Nothing doing," the frauleim says. "I haven't any Bezugsschein."

Another of his peeves! To obtain a "Bezugsschein" for towels, he must convince a hard-boiled official that the old towel is absolutely unusable.

One Change of Stockings

And no matter how shapely a lady's leg may be, if she has one change of stockings, officials may refuse her authorization to buy a new pair.

This writer knows of a man who asked for a "Bezugsschein" for a business suit. The official asked if he had any other suits. "Only the one I have on today," was the answer. The man thought the official was concerned about his every-day clothes.

"Please take a seat in the anteroom," he was told.

After half an hour he was called in again. On a hall-tree were his tuxedo and his dark, Sunday suit.

"Are these yours?" he was asked.

To his affirmative reply, the official said, "Very well, here is

Need Seen for Public Understanding of True Purpose of Wagner Labor Act.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

IT WOULD be much easier for the public to think clearly and fairly about the Wagner act if the label did not give such a misleading description of the contents. The general public is bound to suppose that a national labor relations board is concerned with the peaceable adjustment of the relations between employers and employes, and on this assumption the public is always expecting the board to act as an impartial tribunal.

But as a matter of fact the Wagner act, unlike the railway labor act, is not concerned with the general relations between labor and capital. It is a very special agency. It is designed to accomplish one single purpose, namely, to promote the organization of labor for the purpose of collective bargaining, all other labor relations are outside the scope of this so-called national labor relations board. It has no power to mediate, conciliate or arbitrate in labor disputes; if American industry were as completely unionized as is British industry, for example, there would under the Wagner act be no further "labor relations" for the national labor relations board to deal with.

The problem presented by the Wagner act cannot be understood unless its very specialized purpose is clearly understood. For all the controversies in which the board has been involved originate in the fact that the sole function of the board is to promote the organization of hitherto unorganized industries.

This is made fairly plain in the statement of a member of the board, Dr. William H. Leiserson, to the special house committee. "It is indeed regrettable," he said, "that we should ever have reached a condition that made it necessary for congress to enact the national labor relations act. Most of the great industrial nations of the world do not have any statutes of this kind. The reason is, apparently, that in those countries it did not occur to the great body of employers that they had the right to deny to their employes the freedom of organization which they claimed for themselves."

Purpose of Act

The fact is that because many American industries have resisted unionization, congress passed the Wagner act to overcome their resistance. Dr. Leiserson has explained correctly the purpose of the act and has defined accurately its specialized, and temporoorary, function. But, granting that the purpose was sound, it does not necessarily follow that the means adopted were wise. I believe they were unwise, and I think that Dr. Leiserson's own remarks about the act sustain that contention.

The board has two means of action. First, it may issue an "order" to employers to cease and desist from certain unfair labor practices which interfere with the right of employes to organize. These "orders" are not enforced by the board but by the courts, and they are reviewable by the courts. Second, the board may "certify" the names of the representatives of the workers with whom the employer must enter into collective bargaining. When the board "certifies," its action is not reviewable in the courts.

Now, the first function, that of prosecuting employers who infringe the legal rights of employes, might in principle at least be done more appropriately by the department of justice. Dr. Leiserson's testimony in this connection is interesting. Replying to his charge that the Wagner act is "one sided and does not protect the employer" he said that "there is plenty of law dealing with unfair practices by labor organizations." What he failed to note is that congress established a special board to investigate and institute prosecutions where the rights of labor are infringed, but left the enforcement of employers' rights to the ordinary civil and criminal procedure.

Why Distinction?

What is the reason for this distinction? Presumably, that a workingman can not hire lawyers to look after his rights whereas an employer can. But while this may be a sufficient reason for establishing a special agency, would it not have been much wiser to give this agency the power to enforce employers' rights as well? For then, instead of being a partisan advocate, the board would have been an agency of justice. Far from weakening the position of labor, this would have strengthened it. For the action of the board would then have commanded the respect of all parties; employers would have been de-

Ethel Wraps Another Theater Manager 'Round Her Finger and Splits Up "Gone With the Wind."

By DAMON RUNYON

Mr. Joe Turp writes from Brooklyn:

DEAR SIR: The other night I took my wife Ethel over to Broadway to see Gone With the Wind and when it come to the intermission we went out in the lobby to walk around awhile and Ethel ses Joe I guess we had better go home now because you have to get up early in the morning and we can come back and see the rest of this tomorrow night.

I ses why Ethel then we would have to pay to get in again and we cannot afford it and she ses O I will see the manager and fix it. I ses now see here sweets. I ses don't be going in arguments with any more managers and she ses why Joe there is nothing to get in a argument about.

So she found the manager and she ses mister my husband Joe here and I have to go home now because he has to get up early in the morning to go to work. The manager ses don't you want to see the rest of the picture? There is a lot more to come.

Ethel ses certainly we want to see the rest of it. I can hardly wait until I find out what happens to Clark Gable but we cannot stay any longer tonight because Joe has to get up early. We will come back tomorrow night.

THE manager ses that's fine lady and Ethel ses well you give me something to show the fellow at the door so he will let us in without us having to pay again. The manager ses lady would you mind repeating that.

Ethel ses we cannot stay to see all the picture tonight so we will come back tomorrow night and see the rest of it but we have paid to see the whole picture tonight and have only seen half of it so when we come back tomorrow night to see the other half we do not want to pay any more money.

The manager ses lady will you pardon me a minute while I think this over? Ethel ses certainly so the manager went over to one side of the lobby and leaned against the wall with his hand under his chin. Then he came back and ses let me ask you something. Ethel ses go ahead and ask. He ses suppose everybody in this theater wanted to go home after seeing half the picture and come back tomorrow night to see the other half without paying again?

Ethel ses all right mister I will suppose. He ses well where would I be? She ses I guess you would be right here where you are now. He ses I don't mean it that way. I mean where would I be if all those people who saw the first half tonight came back tomorrow night to see the other half but I already had a house full of people who wanted to see both halves at once where would I put everybody?

ETHEL ses why don't let them stay to see both halves the same night. Make them see one half one night and the second half another night. The manager ses yes but that would get things all mixed up. I ses look Ethel. I ses I will stay and see the second half tonight. I ses I guess I can do with a little less sleep for one night and Ethel ses no Joe you have to have your sleep to protect your health and besides you have to get up early tomorrow morning myself. This manager is a nice fellow and he will fix it. The manager ses I will hay? Ethel ses I am sure you will. It is only justice. The manager ses lady let me think this over again.

So he went and leaned up against the wall with his hand under his chin once more and thought awhile and when he came back he ses lady I hardly know what to do. I suppose I ought to put it up to Hollywood but I am going to take a chance on my own responsibility and will fix it for you. Ethel ses I knew you would. You are really an awfully nice fellow. He ses maybe I am lady but some day this job is going to drive me nuts.

HE wrote something on a slip of paper and we went home and went to bed but the next morning Ethel ses Joe I wish we had stayed and seen the rest of that picture last night. I ses well baby I was willing to stay but you seemed to want to be sure I got some sleep. She ses well did you? I ses no I ses I did not sleep a wink. I ses you tossed around all night long.

Ethel ses that's right, I did. I could not sleep myself and that's why I wished we had seen the rest of the picture. Joe do you know what kept me awake? I ses no what? She ses it was wondering what happened to Clark Gable the rest of the picture. Be home early tonight Joe so we can go see.

Yours truly,
Joe Turp.

Anecdotes of Ohio

By GILBERT F. DODDS

Thomas Ewing, an early Ohio lawyer, came acquainted with two other well-known members of the legal profession, Charles Hammond and Philip Doddridge, in 1820 at a session of the circuit court of the United States then held at Chillicothe.

Ewing related one time an enlightening incident concerning the character of Doddridge with whom he traveled over the state.

En route from Columbus to Lancaster the party stopped at Lithopolis for a meal. Doddridge was in fine humor. He had imbibed freely and ordered a bottle of liquor before eating. Ewing locked the bottle in the bar but Doddridge discovered the hiding place. Upon reaching Lancaster Doddridge was quite intoxicated.

Doddridge became a congressman and his eloquence was said to have equalled that of Patrick Henry. Although he was a fine statesman he never became a national figure.

Black Gold

By United Press

MARTINS FERRY, O.—That's "gold" in that Ohio river bed.

Operators of the Tri-State Ashphalt Co., Martins Ferry, and the McCurdy Sand Co., Brilliant have proved it, although the "gold" is black—a rich vein of coal.

A recent survey of nine miles of river frontage near Powhattan, Belmont county, which the firms had leased showed that a heavy vein of coal ran practically its entire length.

The "miners" began operations with dredges and the yield for the first day was 600 tons. It was taken from an area covering only about one-thousandth of the leased frontage. According to the survey the output should equal the original yield over the entire lease.

There is no distribution problem. The companies have contracted to sell the coal at a dollar a ton on the spot. The coal is loaded into barges and the customers take it away.

Divers were sent down to "shoot" the face of coal and break it up. The dredges brought it to the surface. The huge dredges, formerly owned by U. S. army engineers, have a bucket capacity of from four to five cubic yards.

The deposit was estimated at 100,000 tons but possibly may be much larger. It is the most known river bed deposit of a workable nature along the entire length of the Ohio river.

It's Well To Stand in With Sereno If You Stay Out Late in Madrid

By The Associated Press

MADRID, SPAIN, (CORRESPONDENCE OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)—Sereno—the fellow who has the key to your apartment building when you come home at night—is recovering the prestige he enjoyed in the days of the monarchy.

Then a glorified night watchman, generally a little man in a shabby suit, who carries a bunch of keys that fit all doors in your neighborhood, he had to be on good terms with you.

This Spanish custom to protect the house doors and windows tighter than drums after 10 o'clock at night. Spanish keys usually are much too large to be packing about. They wear holes in your pockets. So you depend on the sereno to let you in after 10 p. m.

The custom is to stand in front of the big iron gate that bars the entrance to your domicile and yell sing-song fashion, "say-ray-no-o-o-o," all the time clapping your hands. If he is a good sereno and doesn't happen to be at the farthest end of his beat he will shout back, "va," (meaning "I'm coming") and you know all is well.

Fumbling through a big cluster of keys by the light of a match, he often as not indulges in a wisecrack or two.

Once the sereno has opened the door he bids you good night and you tip him a few pennies.

The sereno sees all, hears all, knows all. In Madrid there are some 2,000 serenos, or about one every 500 persons. During the Civil war most serenos were believed sympathetic to the nationalist cause. Those who were politically minded with active republican sympathies were in a position to "put the finger" on rightists who were being hunted by leftists.

During the siege of Madrid the serenos did not have much to do. The capital was blocked out and there was no place to go at night. People who stayed out after curfew did so at their own risk, especially if they did not stand in well with the regime.

In the days before the republic the sereno also performed the functions of a town crier. His duty was to call out the time of day or night loud enough for all to hear. During the republic the custom was discarded.

Now it is being revived in provincial towns and villages. Making his rounds, the sereno calls out each half hour. He also describes the weather, whether it is clear, raining, snowing or threatening.

CALEDONIA CLASS MEETS AT BUCYRUS

Special to The Star

CALEDONIA, Jan. 10—The Adelphae Kantos Sunday class of Memorial Methodist church met with Mrs. Blanche Hickson at Bucyrus. The president, Mrs. F. E. Beyers, had charge of the meeting and Mrs. Hickson led the devotions. Mrs. E. S. McBroom spoke on the beginning of Methodistism. Two new members were added to the class. A pot luck supper was served.

REP. BROWN ON COMMITTEE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 — Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester, O., has been appointed to a subcommittee which will study tobacco producers' problems in connection with the work of a Republican special committee on agriculture. He was appointed yesterday by Committee Chairman Hope of Kansas.

TROOPER ON TRIAL

Benjamin Franklin, Pennsylvania state police corporal, arrives at court in Mauch Chunk, Pa., where he is on trial for the fatal shooting of Joan Stevens, 14. Franklin contends he shot, eight times, in self defense when the girl threatened him with a pistol. The gun was later found to be a toy.

NEW TRIALS ASKED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 9—Forty-seven employes just reinstated to jobs in Cincinnati and Dayton state liquor stores have a new worry today. Atty. Gen. Thomas J. Herbert, in behalf of the liquor department, has asked new trials in their cases. Common Pleas Judge Dana S. Reynolds ruled the 47 were discharged improperly.

Axles and springs have been patented that permit racing automobiles to be banked sharply on turns without altering the horizontal positions of their bodies.

Serving as Mayor Brings Enjoyment To Woman of 70

By The Associated Press

LOWER SALEM, O., Jan. 10—Miss Mary Young's 70 years don't keep her from enjoying her job as mayor of this Washington county village of 400 people in southeastern Ohio's hills.

Now serving her twelfth consecutive year in office, she'll remain "as long as they continue to want me."

Ask her how she became mayor and she laughingly recalls:

"It was this way. Some of the rougher element in the village thought that it would be a good joke if they wrote my name in as mayor.

"Everyone was surprised, including myself, when I defeated the village's No. 1 candidate. And I gave 'em another surprise when I accepted the office."

An ardent prohibitionist, Miss Young is a "dyed-in-the-wool Republican," she says. She operates a small pottery and gift shop in addition to her official duties.

The late Frank Young of Zanesville, founder of the Roseville pottery, was the mayor's brother.

PATROLMAN TO TALK

"Safety" will be the program topic for a meeting of the Montgomery Rural school P.-T. A. Thursday night at the school auditorium. Patrolman B. P. Hughes of the state highway patrol will give a talk on "Safety" and there will be motion pictures relative to the program topic. The meeting is scheduled for 8.

CITY MANAGER RETAINED

By The Associated Press

SANDUSKY, O., Jan. 9 — A 3 to 2 city commission vote retained Robert L. G. Wagar as Sandusky city manager today. Commissioner George Apel, critic of city expenditures, presented a motion to oust Wagar and William H. Reinhart, former Ohio conservation commissioner, voted for it. Wagar is serving his third year as city manager.

THIEVES LOOT TWO PLACES AT HEPBURN

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., Jan. 10—Burglars who broke into the Erie railroad depot at Hepburn and stole tools with which they smashed a safe in the F. J. Laubis and Son elevator at Hepburn, were sought today by county officials. Sheriff Lloyd Norman said the yeggs used a sledge hammer, ax and wrecking bar found in railroad property to open the elevator safe. Earl Laubis, elevator manager, said $22 was taken. The burglaries occurred early Tuesday.

CRESTLINE BANK MEETING IS HELD

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, Jan. 10—The board of directors and officers were retained at the annual stockholders' meeting at the First National bank Tuesday.

The board is made up of E. B. Beall of Galion, F. W. Beck, Peter C. Frye, A. G. Holcker, O. F. Kime, C. E. Miller and C. A. Stephan.

Mr. Kime is president; C. A. Stephan and Charles E. Miller, vice presidents; George H. Beck, cashier, and Misses Kathleen Mayer and Frances Shenefield, bookkeepers.

The financial report indicated a satisfactory year with substantial amounts added to both surplus and undivided profits. Deposits also showed an increase. A dividend was paid in December.

UNION CO. SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER DIES

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, Jan. 10—Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon for William J. Prickett, 61, of near Unionville Center who died Monday evening. Mr. Prickett was a member of the county board of education and was just recently elected to fill the post for the next four years.

Mr. Prickett was also clerk of the Chuckery-Darby school board. He served for many years as a superintendent of schools at Broadway and taught school for a number of years. He leaves his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Walter Blumenschein and Mrs. Delmore Bailey and four grandchildren.

SYCAMORE CLASS AT ZELLNER HOME

Special to The Star

SYCAMORE, Jan. 10 — The Mirabeth class of the Reformed school met Thursday night with Mrs. Henry Zellner.

The Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church met with Mrs. Anda Upton Thursday. Mrs. Ira Konkle read devotions. The stewardship program was given by Mrs. Dodge Curtis, the lesson study by Mrs. Blanch Kitchen.

WHEAT PRICE HOLDS TO CLOSE RANGE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Jan. 10—Rapid and fairly wide price swings characterized the wheat pit today with values closing near the day's best levels. Fluctuations were within a range of about 2 cents.

Firmness at Winnipeg, where gains of better than a cent were scored, and increased buying at the decline here, erased early losses of about a cent and replaced them with corresponding gains. Increased war activity contributed to the upturn, which, however, was held in check much of the time by more favorable domestic crop reports.

Wheat on the board of trade closed ¾-¾ higher. May 1.02-1.02⅛, July 99⅛-¼; corn ⅛-⅜ down, May 58-58⅛, July 58⅜; oats ¼ higher.

Boston Wool

By The Associated Press.

BOSTON, Jan. 10 — Trading in wool was in very light volume today. Small lots were moved occasionally, but the aggregate volume of sales was too small to establish market prices. Holders of greasy shorn domestic wools were not inclined to change asking prices from levels they have been quoting for several weeks. Buyers who were making bids on sizeable weights offered prices that were unacceptable to holders.

Court News

Licensed to Wed

Marriage licenses have been granted in probate court to Verne Douglas Highland, machinist, of 772 North State street, and Mary Josephine Orahood of 208 Wallace street; to Elton E. Foul, musician, of 273 Patten street, and Wilda Riffee of 290 South High street; to John E. Baer, farmer, of 1248 Ackerman avenue, and Henrietta Dawson of 148 DeWolfe court.

Suit Over Title

Suit to quiet title to lot No. 1273 in Love's first addition has been filed in common pleas court by Margaret Ammann, who names Leo E. Patton and others as defendants. She contends that defendants owning lots No. 1274 and No. 1272 in Love's first addition have trespassed and asks that they be enjoined from molesting her property. She is represented by Edward J. Zinna.

Suit Dismissed

A suit brought in common pleas court by Jessen M. King against Harry H. Werner and others, seeking partition of the Hotel Marion building at Center and State streets, has been dismissed. The dismissal was made on a motion of the plaintiff, represented by Williams & Robinson.

STOCKS TRAVEL SHAKY GROUND

Some Shares Improve Position While Others Slip to Lower Levels.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 — The stock market worked over shaky ground today and while some shares improved fractionally others dropped a bit.

Disinclination on the part of traders to make commitments was apparent from the moderate opening and the ticker tape continued at a slow pace. Near the fourth hour a few rubber, metal and miscellaneous manufacturing shares had added a trifle.

Steels, favored at first, were inclined to retreat under light selling pressure as did the rails and some of the utilities.

Most professionals seemed undecided in their own minds as to trends over the next week or so, and what buying there was seemed to be highly selective or of an investment nature.

Foreign markets tended lower. Bonds were uneven and commodities mixed.

Douglas Aircraft, on the big board, picked up around a point at one time following announcement American Air Lines had ordered 15 of the new four-engined transports, said to be the largest land planes in the world.

Figures showing U. S. Steel December shipments of finished products were the highest since April, 1937, were offset to an extent by the "Iron Age" statement that deliveries in the industry were outrunning new orders by about two to one.

A board room topic was President Roosevelt's indication he was talking over with the state department further aid to Finland, which some marketeers feared might place us "closer" to the war. The possible Italo-Hungarian alliance to resist Russia in the Balkans was taken to mean the area of conflict might be broadened.

PLANS MADE FOR EDISON INSTITUTE

Special to The Star

EDISON, Jan. 10—The Edison community institute will be held at the Edison school Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 11 and 12. Music will be furnished by the school orchestra directed by George Bradshaw. Pictures will be shown Wednesday afternoon of the "100 bushel corn club trip" to the Smoky mountains. The film will be described by County Agent Elwood Davis. The American literature class will sponsor a miniature broadcast.

Music for Wednesday evening will be the Edison Sunday school orchestra directed by Edwin Pittman. John Cortney of the Mansfield radio station, WMAN, will sing. The girls' glee club, directed by Mrs. Howard Clapper, will give the operetta, "College Girl and the Milkmaid." The school will show two short pictures.

Music for Thursday will be furnished by the school band and the high school octette.

J. H. T. Gorgon of Huntsville and Mrs. D. B. Phillips of Mt. Washington will speak at each of the sessions Thursday evening there will be a magician, Carroll Ritchey, of Marion. J. B. Swain of Marion will speak. The Denmark quartet will furnish music. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clapper will sing two numbers.

Dinner will be served both days at the school cafeteria.

CRESTLINE WOMEN HEAR CLEVELANDER

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, Jan. 10 — "The Charm of Old Williamsburg" was the subject of a talk before the Crestline Women's club at the Y. M. C. A. Monday by Professor Davis of Cleveland. He used slides illustrating the lecture which is an arm chair journey into the eighteenth century, seeing colonial Williamsburg as reviewed by the Rockefeller restoration, with its quaint colonial costumes, early American architecture and furniture.

Mrs. J. F. McMahon presided and introduced the speaker and announced the next meeting Feb. 12 at this time. Mrs. Depew Head of Columbus will present a book review.

Mrs. Elizabeth Fetters was installed as president of the Women's Benefit association Monday.

Miss Lena Zimmerman, past president, was the installing officer and other officers installed were: Mrs. Sarah Witchl, vice president; Miss Lena Zimmerman, past president; Mrs. Laura Smith, junior supervisor; Mrs. Irene Werner, recording secretary and press correspondent; Miss Anna Zimmerman, treasurer; Mrs. Janet Long, financial secretary; Mrs. Emma Cole, chaplain; Mrs. Gladies Harley, lady of ceremony; Mrs. Rose Smith, sargeant, and Mrs. Mae Guinip, captain.

The Stars Say—

For Thursday, Jan 11

MODERATE opportunity and accomplishment are presaged by the fairly favorable lunar transits. With the ambitions under mild stimulus both in business and all pertaining to writings, publishing and promotion cleverness and resourcefulness may prove profitable However, there is some menace of treachery, intrigue or secret undermining from a source little suspected Keep alert astute

Those whose birthday it is may enjoy a year of moderate success Business should move at a fairly active pace and matter of a literary, advertising, publicity or transportation nature should thrive providing there is sufficient stability and application There are dangers of secret undermings intrigues or treacheries which are best met by strategy or diplomacy

A child born on this day may be versatile and resourceful, having fine mental equipment and moderate ambition It may enjoy fair success in life despite secret enmities or its own subtleties.
